Cleveland County Democrats To Attend J—J Day Events

More than 70 Cleveland County Democrats are expected to attend the 49th annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Celebration in Raleigh April 7.

The celebration, named in honor of two of the nation's most famous Democratic leaders, will draw participants from every county in the state. Virtually all of North Carolina's elected state officials will attend, as well as members of the state's Congressional delegation.

"We're going to have a day of good food, great fellowship and exciting speakers," said State Party Chairman Russell Walker. "We expect to have one of the country's outstanding young Senators as our dinner speaker, and the new Raleigh Civic Center will be a beautiful setting for that event."

Tickets for the dinner are $25.00 each, and may be purchased from county party chairman Joyce Cashion, of Kings Mountain, from State Democratic Headquarters at the Hilton Inn in Raleigh, or by writing State Democratic Headquarters, P.O. Box 12196, Raleigh 27605. The dinner menu will feature most top sirloin of beef, Southern fried chicken and golden fried ocean perch. Included are a variety of fresh vegetables and salads, breads, and a choice of desserts, coffee and tea.

The day's activities begin with a 10 a.m. breakfast that will feature as speaker a member of the White House staff. The breakfast, at the Hilton Inn in Raleigh, is sponsored by the Democratic Women of Wake County. Tickets are $10.00.

All ticket holders for the dinner are also invited to a reception from 3-5 p.m. at the Governor's Mansion. Governor Jim Hunt, members of the Congressional delegation and the Council of State will receive guests, along with the dinner speaker. Light refreshments will be served.

Everyone Pays For Shoplifting Costs

Every American family pays an extra $30 to $150 a year to retail stores to help cover their losses due to shoplifting.

According to agricultural specialists with the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service, store owners have to raise prices as much as 15 percent to cover losses.

This means a $25 item would cost only between $22 and $23 without this markup.

Another part of the cost of shoplifting is the cost of surveillance equipment needed in stores to check on shoppers.

Who are the most frequent shoplifters?

According to the specialists, they're young and old, rich and poor. However, shoplifting is the most common among teenagers.

Housewives comprise 25 percent of all shoplifters; teenagers almost 50 percent.

Experts say that most of the people who take things from stores have enough money in their pockets to pay for the items they have stolen.

The average price of items stolen is $28 and on the average, one of every 12 shoppers takes something from a store.

Besides the cost to consumers, shoplifting can have long-lasting and often damaging consequences for those who are caught. Besides leaving them with a permanent police record, a prison sentence can disrupt families
