

Procurement Conference Set

Jerry King, Director of the Kings Mountain Economic Development office, wants all area businesses to be aware that major government buyers of goods and services and advisors to small business will be at a North Carolina Government Procurement Conference for small businesses May 15 in Raleigh at the Jane S. McKimmon Center.

"At the conference, operators of small business can receive advice on management, financing, or selling to government and can talk with government buyers," said Albert Calloway of the N.C. Department of Commerce.

Businessmen can attend workshops on Financing a Small Business; Set-Aside Program with the U.S. Government; Selling or Contracting to the Government; Construction and Bonding; Exporting; Managerial and/or Technical Services; and Franchising Opportunities.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. A brief opening ceremony will be held at 9 a.m. and workshops will begin at 9:30 a.m. The registration fee is $8. When the businessmen aren't attending workshops, they can meet with government agency buyers, who will set up booths at the conference. Almost all major military installations; the General Services Administration; and N.C. Division of Purchase and Contract will be among those with buyers at the conference.

Guest speakers at a luncheon will be Governor James B. Hunt and Senator Robert Morgan.

For additional information, contact Jerry L. King at 739-6241, or Jerry Dodson, 919-783-2712, of the N.C. Department of Commerce in Raleigh.

Library Offering Pamphlets

The Mauney Memorial library Monday, began offering its patrons free informational pamphlets on everyday legal problems written in easy-to-understand layman's language.

Librarian Hazel Fryer said the materials are being made available as a part of a public information program of The Lawyers of North Carolina.

Topics covered in the initial phase of the program include: Wills, Marriage in North Carolina, Separation and Divorce, Buying a Home, What to Do in Case of an Auto Accident and Serving on a Jury.

The Lawyers of North Carolina, Inc., is a public information service of the North Carolina Bar Association. The distribution of information on everyday legal problems has long been a cornerstone of the Bar Association's public information program.

For a number of years, newspaper column and radio features have been provided to newspapers and radio stations throughout the State. "We are delighted that libraries throughout North Carolina are participating in this program," said John E. Raper, Jr., of Fayetteville, President of The Lawyers of North Carolina. "We feel that there is a genuine need for answers to questions about everyday legal matters and that people should not necessarily have to consult a lawyer on relatively routine matters."

The program is being coordinated locally by the library and Attorney George B. Thomason of Kings Mountain.

Completes Course

Navy Fireman Apprentice Jeffrey C. Whitaker, son of Billy L. and Shirley B. Whitaker, of Kings Mountain, has completed the Basic Electrician's Mate Course.

The course was designed to provide a thorough understanding of the operation, maintenance, and repair of electrical systems.
