In observance of National Youth Art Month, art instructors from the county's three school systems have their works on display at CTC until March 31. Other teachers participating in the show are Beverly Putnam, Patricia Green, Myra Ware, and Deborah Ramseur of Cleveland County Schools, Ford McDonald and Dale Gold of Shelby.

Miss Dilling Participates In Presidential Classroom

Sharon Allison Dilling of Kings Mountain High School participated recently in A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans in Washington, D.C. The Classroom will have 411 outstanding high school students from all 50 states plus schools overseas represented in the National Student Body. Presidential Classroom is an educational program for juniors and seniors in high school which introduces student leaders to the people who make and influence the policies of the federal government. The Classroom presents an overview of "Power in Washington" through the students meeting with decision makers from the three branches of government, the diplomatic community, the news media, and the business and labor sectors.

The students met with many policy makers, including Elliot Richardson, Senior Partner, Milbank, Tweed, Hadley and McCloy; Senator Nancy Kassebaum (R. - Kansas); Harry Hurwitz, Minister of Information, Embassy of Israel; Representative Jack Kemp (R. -New York); Richard Cohen, Columnist, The Washington Post; and the Honorable Angela Buchanan, Treasurer of the United States. Students will also have appointments with their elected Members of Congress and attend committee hearings on Capitol Hill.

The Classroom was chartered in 1968 at the recommendation of President Lyndon B. Johnson. The program promotes citizen responsibility and civic awareness through a forum for independent thought. Since the program receives no government funding, students depend on raising their tuition from local civic groups and their schools. Students are selected by their schools to attend the Classroom.

In addition to the program for high school students, the Classroom offers a program for college and students and professionals called The Federal Forum.

Kings Mountain Student On Tour With Ensemble

Boiling Springs, N.C.—The Gardner-Webb College Choral Ensemble will be participating in its annual spring tour during the spring holidays of the college and will make appearances in various churches and schools in North and South Carolina.

Performing with the group is Freshman Lisa Abernethy, daughter of Mrs. Patricia H. Abernethy of Cliffside; Senior Tim Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Atkinson of Wicklow Place, Charlotte, a religious education major; Junior Sherri Curtis, daughter of Mr. Dale Curtis of Ellenboro, a music education major; Junior Joy Morehead Fagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guy Morehead of Ellenboro, a music education major (voice); Junior Kent Harrelson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Harrelson of Boiling Springs, a music education major; Freshman Terry Hosch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie F. Hosch, Sr., of James Love Road, Shelby, a music education major (voice); Sophomore William A. McSwain, Jr., son of Mrs. Margaret B. McSwain of Route Six, Kings Mountain, a piano major and Junior Dean White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin White of Route Two, Shelby, a religious education major.

The Choral Ensemble is the official touring choir of the college and its membership comes from a wide representation of the various majors of the college with about half of the membership being non-music majors. Appearances are scheduled in Sumter, Hanahan, Charleston, and Myrtle Beach in S.C., and Ash, Kinston, Mount Olive, Scotland Neck, Oxford and Pineville, N.C.

The tour began on Friday, March 5, and will officially end with the presentation of the home concert on Tuesday evening, March 16, at 8 p.m. in Dover Memorial Chapel on the college campus.

The tour of the Ensemble is planned so as to coincide with "Music in Our Schools Week" sponsored by the Music Educators National Conference and is an emphasis on a nationwide basis in the promotion of music as an education tool in the schools of the county.

Gardner-Webb College is affiliated with the North Carolina Baptist State Convention and is located in Boiling Springs, North Carolina, in the foothills of the Smokey Mountains. Represented among the music faculty are degrees from more than 25 colleges, universities and conservatories of music; the music program is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. Majors in music are available with concentrations in Music Education, Sacred Music, Sacred Music/Religion, and Liberal Arts with options in Performance, Composition and Research.

Accompanists for the Choral Ensemble this year are Senior Connie Hodge, Organist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hodge of Sumter, South Carolina, and Junior Patricia Burnett, Pianist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paleather Burnett of Duncan, South Carolina. Student Conductor is Larry Bodie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Bodie of Aiken, South Carolina. Bodie is a Senior pursuing a degree program in Sacred Music.

A special feature of this year's tour program is a section of numbers especially prepared by student conductors. The men will be conducted by the student conductor, Larry Bodie, and the organist, Miss Connie Hodge, will lead the women in a number especially prepared for this tour. An additional feature of the program is the inclusion of the anthem, "Let All the People Praise Thee!" by William Mathias and written especially for the wedding last summer of HRH Prince Charles and Lady Diana in St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

Currently in his eighth year as conductor of the Choral Ensemble,

Dr. George R. Cribb is Chairman of the Department of Fine Arts. Dr. Cribb received the Bachelor's degree from Wake Forest University and the graduate degrees in music from Columbia University and North Texas State University. Additional study has been done at the Westminster Choir College, the Hartt School of Music at the University of Hartford, the Union Theological Seminary (New York) and at York University (England). He has been on the music faculties of a number of colleges and has been the only Chairman of the Department of Fine Arts at Gardner-Webb since the school became a Senior College in 1969. He was elected two years ago as Vice-Chairman of the Faculty and just completed his tenure as a member of the Academic Cabinet of the college.
