

Girl Scouts 70th Year

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. celebrates its 70th birthday this year, but it will give birthday gifts to the nation rather than receive them.

These gifts will be in the form of "gifts of action" projects centered on the theme of water and tying in with the United Nations' declaration of 1981-1990 as the Clean Water Decade.

A task force from the Pioneer Girl Scout Council - Gaston, Lincoln, Cleveland and Rutherford counties - choose these projects for 1982:

*Water safety - Scouts will organize "drown-proofing" clinics during the early summer months to encourage safe enjoyment of water sports. The clinics will be held at public pools and will be open to Girl Scouts and others who do not know how to swim.

*Water conservation - Scouts will plan how they and their families can conserve water by finding out exactly how much water they use and how much they could save. This project will climax with a day when they use no water.

*Water cleanup - Scouts will remove trash from streams and place trash containers in the area to decrease water pollution. In cooperation with the Soil and Water Conservation Service, Scouts also will plant seeds, bushes and trees along banks to reduce erosion.

*Water recreation - Scouts will plan a day this fall for swimming races, water games and canoe races. Older Scouts will have the opportunity to take lifesaving classes.
