McGill Participates In Presidential Classroom

Charles Hamilton McGill of Kings Mountain High School is participating this week in A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans in Washington, D.C. The Classroom will have 432 outstanding high school students from all 50 states plus schools overseas represented in the National Student Body.

Presidential Classroom is an educational program for juniors and seniors in high school which introduces student leaders to the people who make and influence the policies of the federal government. The Classroom presents an overview of "Power in Washington" through the students meeting with decision makers from the three branches of government, the diplomatic community, the news media, and the business and labor sectors.

This week, the students will meet with many policy makers, including Senator Edward F. Kennedy (Massachusetts); The Honorable Rudolph W. Giuliani, Associate Attorney General of the United States; Marsha Michele McGraw, Associate Director, Arms Control Association; Congressman Louis Stokes (Ohio); and General William C. Westmoreland, U.S. Army (Retired). Students will also have appointments with their elected Members of Congress and attend committee hearings on Capitol Hill.

The Classroom was chartered in 1968 at the recommendation of President Lyndon B. Johnson. The program promotes citizen responsibility and civic awareness through a forum for independent thought. Since the program receives no government funding, students depend on raising their tuition from local civic groups and their schools. Students are selected by their schools to attend the Classroom.

In addition to the program for high school students, the Classroom offers a program for college students and professionals called The Federal Forum.

Students On Dean's List

DALLAS, NC.-Gaston College announces 241 students to the Honor Lists for the 1981-82 winter quarter. Seventy-one students were named to the President's Honor List. A grade point average of 4.0 on twelve or more hours of work in a quarter is the requisite for the President's Honor List.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, more than 2 million North Carolinians are aged 40 and older, and nearly 1.5 million are working or seeking work; and

WHEREAS, these middle-aged and older workers bring extensive experience and high job qualifications to the work force of the State and are steady, reliable workers; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Government and the State of North Carolina identify employment of middle-aged and older workers as a priority in attaining maximum productivity of the labor force; and

WHEREAS, in pursuing this goal, the President and Governor James B. Hunt, Jr., have designated the week of March 14-20 as Employ the Older Worker Week; and

WHEREAS, As Mayor of the City of Kings Mountain, I actively endorse this opportunity to focus public attention on the problems of older workers, and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John Henry Moss, Mayor, do here proclaim
MARCH 14-20, 1982

OLDER WORKER WEEK
IN KINGS MOUNTAIN.
FURTHERMORE, I urge all employers in Kings Mountain to carefully consider the qualifications of persons aged 40 and over when they seek new employees; and I ask public officials with job-placement responsibility to intensify their efforts throughout the year to help older workers find suitable jobs.

WITNESS my hand and corporate seal of the City of Kings Mountain, North Carolina, this 8th day of March, 1982.

Where not to be in lightning

Lightning is always available, kneel with beautiful at a distance. It is necessary for greener grass and taller trees, but when experienced too closely, it can stunt growth! By George, it's even dangerous.

So, take a few tips from me: Avoid hilltops, open spaces, tractors, motorcycles, wire fences, clotheslines, and small sheds in exposed places when lightning approaches. If no shelter is
