Charlotte Herndon Intern

WASHINGTON--Miss Charlotte Herndon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Herndon of Kings Mountain, is currently serving as an intern in the Washington office of 10th District Representative James Broyhill.

Miss Herndon, a junior at The Madeira School in Greenway, Virginia, works in the Lenoir Congressman's office on Wednesday of every week as part of a curriculum requirement at The Madeira School. Junior students participate in the intern program in Capitol Hill congressional and senatorial offices.

"I have enjoyed the Junior Work Week this year," Miss Herndon said of her work in Broyhill's office.

"I have enjoyed getting to know the people and learning how Congressman Broyhill represents his constituents. This internship has given me the greatest opportunity to see how representatives work with federal, state and local officials."

Active in several of The Madeira School's activities, Miss Herndon participates in the French Club, plays tennis and basketball and also serves on the staff of the school yearbook, The Epilogue. She also conducts tours of the school for prospective students when they visit the campus.

Upon finishing her work for her junior year at The Madeira School, Miss Herndon will be returning to Kings Mountain for the summer.

A TRIBUTE TO LESLIE PARKS PRICE

We sometimes hear it said, "God buries His workmen but carries on His work." God's work does go on, but God just doesn't bury his workmen. The Master once gave us a parable about work and the workmen. A master set some tasks for his workmen and said to them, "Occupy till I come." Then when he returned, he said to the faithful workmen; "Well done, Thou has been faithful in a few things; I will make thee ruler over many things. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." God who calls his workmen saying, "Go into my vineyard," likewise later calls; "Come up higher."

On Sunday, May 23rd, just fifteen minutes before midnight, God called LESLIE PARKS PRICE to come up higher. This dedicated Christian had fought the good fight and finished his course. Mr. Price was a well-learned man who enjoyed reading very much, and he especially loved the Bible and knew the Scriptures exceptionally well. He was a dignified, quiet, soft-spoken man whose sterling character was above reproach. This man of God daily lived his life in such a way that his actions spoke much louder than his words.

We are deeply saddened by his death and shall surely miss him. However, the wonderful, sweet memories he left us will remain in our hearts forever and help to sustain us until, we too, receive our call to come up higher where once more we will all meet again!

Damaged Cross At First Wesleyan Church

Lightning Damages Church

Lightning struck the Crosstower of First Wesleyan Church at approximately 6 p.m. Friday, knocking the Cross off the tower.

There were no injuries reported in the incident, although there was a wedding rehearsal taking place inside. The Rev. Dwight Edwards, pastor of the church, reported that he and his wife had just gotten out of their car and walked under an overhang when the lightning struck, scattering bricks across the churchyard.
