Douglas Arthurs Graduates Law School

Douglas Paul Arthurs, a 1972 graduate of Cherryville High School, was among 173 graduates receiving their juris doctorate degrees from Wake Forest University School of Law on May 17. He was one of three students to receive their degrees magna cum laude, the highest distinction conferred on graduates of the School of Law. In order to graduate magna cum laude a student must maintain an A average during his three years of study.

During his three years at Wake Forest Law School, Arthurs received several scholastic honors. Each of his six semesters he was included on the Scholastic Honors List, an honor conferred on the top ten percent of each class for the semester. Doug received the American Jurisprudence Prize in four courses: Real Property, Civil Procedure I, Domestic Relations, and Remedies. The American Jurisprudence Prize is a book award given to the student attaining the highest grade in each of twenty selected courses. He was also selected as a Legal Bibliography teaching assistant. Legal Bibliography is a research and writing course required for all first year students.

In addition to his scholastic success, Arthurs was a member of a number of law school organizations. He was elected as a second year representative to the Student Bar Association, the law school equivalent of a student government association. He was also selected as a member of the Moot Court Board and the Wake Forest Law Review. The Moot Court Board is an organization that concentrates on appellate advocacy skills. Membership in this organization is based on demonstrated excellence in brief writing and oral argument. The Wake Forest Law Review is a legal magazine published by student editors and staff members six times a year. This publication is placed in the library of nearly every law school in the country as a research tool for practicing attorneys.

Membership on the Law Review is offered to the top ten percent of each class after the first year of law school and to an additional ten percent of the class who demonstrate outstanding legal writing ability in a writing contest held during the summer between the first and second years of law school. While a member of the Wake Forest Law Review Doug wrote and had published two legal casenotes: The Preemptive Provision As A Valid Restraint On Alienation, 17 Wake Forest Law Review 682 (1981) and Spousal Testimony In Criminal Proceedings, 17 Wake Forest Law Review 990 (1981).

Arthurs received his A.A. degree in Liberal Arts from Gaston College in December 1976. He then received his B.A. degree in Political Science from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in May of 1978. Upon successful completion of the North Carolina Bar Examination in July, he will join the law firm of Hollowell, Stott, Hollowell, Palmer & Windham in Gastonia as an associate.

Arthurs is married to the former Janet Boggs of Cherryville and they have two children, Jennifer, age 5, and Jason, age 1. He is the son of Ms. Shirley Allen of Cherryville and J.L. Arthurs of Kings Mountain.

Library Notes

By MaryJane Carbo

Some things you might not know about the Mauney Memorial Library:

1. Job listings. We receive weekly a print-out from the Employment Security Commission, listing jobs available in Cleveland County and Western North Carolina. You may look through our listings and check back with the Employment Security Commission office to set up an interview.

2. 16 mm films and projectors. Let the Mauney Memorial Library become your film center. We can order for you (through the State Library in Raleigh) almost anything: from Mickey Mouse cartoons to the eight-part series "Roots". We will also order 16 mm projectors for you if you have none available. A perfect service for birthday parties or church groups. And it is also free!

3. Book reserves. If you cannot find a book that we own, never fear! We will place a reserve on it. When the book is returned we then notify you to pick it up.

4. Inter-library loan. You don't need to trudge all over the state to find a book that the Mauney Library does not own. We will borrow the book for you from another library through inter-library loan, then we can loan the book to you! Another free service from the library that saves you time and gas too.

5. Talking books. If you or a loved one has trouble seeing, you will want to know about library services to you. We have a collection of large print books that are much better to read than conventional print. We can also order for you "talking books" from the Library for the Blind and Handicapped. These are tape recordings of complete books specifically designed for use by the handicapped. This is also a free service.

6. Programs for children. There is still time to register your children for our summer programs. The Just Open A Book Club is for children aged 6-12. Preschool Storytime is for children aged 3-5. Call us for more information. Kids are going to have a ball this summer with our puppet shows, crafts, ghost stories and other activities!

7. Volunteer opportunities. If you like to perform with puppets (or would like to learn), tell stories, make crafts and play with kids then we have a perfect volunteer job for you at the Mauney Memorial Library. We need people to help out with the Just Open A Book Club. Contact MaryJane Carbo at the library (739-2371). If working with children is not your cup of tea, there are many other projects here at the library that will just take a few hours of your time. Help us help you!

8. Automobile Information. We have buyer's guides to new and used automobiles at the library. If you are planning to buy or sell a new or used car, these books will be an indispensable help to you. We also own repair manuals for American and foreign model cars as well as trucks, motorcycles and vans.

More detailed information about all of the above may be found in forthcoming columns. Or, you may call the Mauney Memorial Library at 739-2371 and find out. Either way, be sure to visit the public library at 100 South Piedmont Ave. soon!
