The Kings Mountain Association of Educators, an affiliate of NCAE, held its reception for new professional personnel Thursday at 3 p.m. in the court area of Kings Mountain Senior High. The event was well-attended by educators and dignitaries.

Special guests included John Dornan, executive secretary of NCAE, who assumed his duties in North Carolina on August 1. This was one of his first appearances in the western part of the state and his first trip to Kings Mountain. Originally from Pennsylvania, Dornan has worked with the New York professional association for the past several years.

Other NCAE officials present included Loretta Martin of Thomasville, state NCAE president; and Steve Wells, past president of the Association of Classroom Teachers who has returned to his position at Grover Elementary School.

Other guests included Mayor John Henry Moss, city commissioners Norman King and Humes Houston, school board chairman June Lee, Senator Ollie Harris, Representative Edith Lutz, Superintendent William Davis, Assistant Superintendent Larry Allen and many retired educators.

Betsy Wells, president of the Kings Mountain Association of Educators, headed the receiving line where those attending met the new professional personnel and honored guests. Other association officers include Patti Weathers of Central School, vice president; Gail Hightower of Bethware School, secretary; and Mary Plyler of Bethware, treasurer. Mrs. Wells teaches at Kings Mountain Senior High.

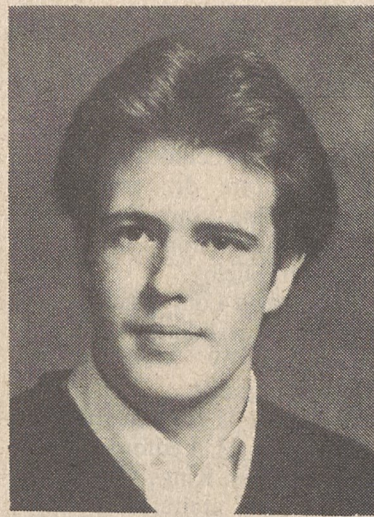

New professionals in the school district include Judy Williams, Gary Isenhour, Audrey Leonhardt, Ruth Wilson, William Wellman, Beth Allman, Paula McDaniel, Charles Locke, Virgie Eaker, Janet Hinson and Janice Douglas.

The reception was organized by the social committee, head by chairmen Kathy Goforth and Annette Parker. A fall color scheme with orange, brown, gold and green was used. The refreshments were made by Margaret Baird and Linda Dixon, home economics teachers at the high school. Pamela Goforth assisted by serving punch.

As a welcoming gift from the organization, each new professional was given a special coffee mug which read "Children are the Future. Teach them wisely."

Dear Friends

Most families decide in advance upon a doctor in whom they have confidence to call in an emergency. In like manner, it is wise to decide upon a funeral director in whom you can place your confidence in time of need. Select this man in advance, when good judgment is not upset by the stress of your grief.

Respectfully
