Lunch Week

Kings Mountain District Schools joined with schools across the nation in the celebration on National School Lunch Week October 10-16. "School Lunch: America's No. 1 Energy Source" was the celebration theme.

Special emphasis for National School Lunch Week included the universal menu served in the Kings Mountain School on Wednesday. This menu included colorful and tasty Chinese delight: Teriyake Chicken, Fried Rice, Fantasy Fruit, Stir Fried Vegetables and Almond Cookie.

A number of teachers in the Kings Mountain Schools used the oriental menu as part of the classroom activities in the study of China and how the Chinese people live and work.

The cafeterial employees joined in the fun by decorating the cafeterias with a touch of China. Some of the employees dressed as Chinese women and served lunch to the students.

Several hundred parents participated in the activities as they visited the schools and ate lunch with the students.

The McDonald's® Quality Story: One in a Series.

BEEF.

100% PURE DOMESTIC BEEF.

Do you know what makes McDonald's® hamburgers so delicious? Quality ingredients. Take our beef. It's the hero of the McDonald's hamburger. We use only 100% pure domestic beef. Period. And we choose only selected cuts like sirloin, chuck and round to make our lean and tasty ground beef. As a matter of fact, the beef in a McDonald's hamburger is leaner than most people generally buy at their local supermarket!

WHAT WE DON'T USE.

Now, just a brief word about what we don't use: No imported beef.

No fillers. No additives. Nothing artificial. Never.

MORE THAN GOOD BEEF.

Of course, the great taste of a Mc-

Donald's hamburger doesn't come from the beef alone. All our buns are made from enriched wheat flour, baked fresh in the Carolinas. In our cheeseburgers and Big Macs® we use our own blend of mild, melted process American Cheese (please don't confuse it with "cheese food"). And we put two slices on our Quarter Pounder with Cheese®! And the special sauce on your Big Mac comes from a secret blend of herbs, spices and real mayonnaise.

So what are you waiting for? Clip out the coupon below and taste the delicious quality of our beef for yourself. McDonald's hamburgers. They're so good because we use only quality ingredients.
