

'Emperor's New Clothes' Set At Little Theatre

All is not as it seems in the tiny Oriental Kingdom far, far away. A king wearing no clothes? You may not believe your eyes and ears. But it's all in the spirit of good fun as the Kings Mountain Little Theatre begins the children's play, "The Emperor's New Clothes".

This production by the Kings Mountain Little Theatre will be held at the Park Grace Theatre on November 18, 19, and 20 at 8 p.m. A Sunday matinee will be held at 3 p.m. on November 21.

"The Emperor's New Clothes" follows the classic Hans Christian Andersen tale of two weavers who set out to fool the King, his Chancellor and all the people of the Kingdom with a "Magic" cloth. And they almost succeed. Almost.

Debbie Rushing, who is directing "The Emperor's New Clothes", Charlie Brown". It was one of the most successful plays in the Kings Mountain Little Theatre's history. "The Emperor's New Clothes" is the biggest children's play we've ever done", said Ms. Rushing. "There's a cast of 38. Many of the same children from "Charlie Brown" are back".

Those in the cast who are returning to the stage are Paul Terry as Zar, Matthew Bradshaw as Zan, Kenny Potter as Ling, Suzanne Lee as Fah, Chucky Dixon as the Gong Boy, Chip Caldwell as the Emperor, Heather Bradshaw as the Empress, Emily Campbell as the Child, Bill Moskal, Melisa Rikard and Kim Scism as the Royal Weavers, Amy Dixon, Becky Moskal, Christy Dixon, Anne Campbell and Allison Barnett as Citizens.

New to the Kings Mountain Little theatre are Linda Smith as Tsein, Rame Eskridge as Mong, Gray Rikard as the General, Cathy Pace as Han, Susan Ware as Han's Servant, Kendra Cash, Tracey Murphy and Jenny Summey as Royal Weavers, Karen Smith, Matthew Rikard, and Ginger Teseniar as Citizens, Miranda Brackett as the Babysitter and Jamie Ladd, Kevin Ladd, Daniel Marlowe, Crystal Rowe, Sarah Dilling, Angie Ruff, Forest Conner and Kim Ledford as the Children.

Tickets to see "The Emperor's New Clothes" are available at the door or in advance. Prices at the door are $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for students. Tickets purchased in advance are $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for students. Half-price discounts for senior citizens and groups of nine or more are also available ($2.00 for adult and $1.00 for students). Call 739-2371 between 4 - 6 p.m. Monday through Friday or 865-6305 other times for further information on ticket sales.

Kings Mountain Little Theatre patrons, friends and others wishing to guarantee a seat for a particular night may also call 739-2371 between 4 - 6 p.m. or 865-6305 other times to do so.

The Kings Mountain Little Theatre will also be presenting two other productions this season. "The Lion in Winter", a drama, will be presented February 10, 11, 12, and 13, 1983. "Love, Sex and the I.R.S.", a light comedy, is slated for April, 1983. Anyone interested in joining the theatre may attend the meetings of the Kings Mountain Little Theatre, held at the Park Grace theatre on the first Thursday of every month. The next meeting will be held December 2. Productions of the Kings Mountain Little Theatre are made possible through a Grassroots grant from the North Carolina Arts Council.
