"Starting an IRA at our age seemed a little useless until I talked to Home Federal."

Im in my fifties. Until recently I planned to retire on Social Security, life insurance and some money I have in savings. I figured it was a little too late to start an Individual Retirement Account. But I changed my mind after doing a little investigating at Home Federal. Opening an IRA is a lot easier than I thought. I put in as much as I want, as often as I want. They'll even draft my deposits automatically from my checking account. I sleep a lot better at night knowing my account is insured to $100,000 by the FSLIC. With my Home Federal IRA I don't pay taxes on my contributions until I retire and my money's earning a high rate of interest. My retirement savings are growing faster than I ever thought possible. I won't be retiring any sooner now, but with my Home Federal IRA I'm looking forward to it a lot more than I used to.
