

Films Slated At Church

On Sunday night, April 24, First Presbyterian Church in Bessemer City will begin a series of six films entitled, "The Family: God's Pattern for Living". Put out by the Moody Institute of Science, the films feature John MacArthur, Jr., a nationally known pastor, author, and radio teacher.

which God has established for the family, the titles of the films are: "God's Pattern for Relationships"; "God's Pattern for Wives"; "God's Pattern for Husbands"; "God's Pattern for Children"; "God's Pattern for Parents"; and "God's Pattern Broken Divorce and Remarriage". The films show through God's Word how persons can build the kind of families that God can bless. Commenting on the films, the church's pastor, the Rev. John S. Jennings, says that "there are many Christians, today, who do not really have a Christian home. John MacArthur, Jr. shows them how to quit their struggling, and to let God's principles transform their families. He tackles the tough questions about working mothers, mutual submission, remarriage and the divorced Christian, and the functions of each member of the family. Those who see these films will learn the joy of living family life the way God designed it to be lived, and the way that every family member desired that it should be lived."

In addition to the six films, Rev. Jennings will preach on these same subjects during the morning worship services.

Each of the films is 52 minutes long, and will be shown every Sunday night, April 24 through May 29, from 7 to 8 p.m. Rev. Jennings invites the public to attend and take advantage of these films, that "God may use them to change as many homes as possible, through the life-changing power of His Word and Spirit!"
