KM Student Attend Summer Camp At G-W

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C. - Fifty high school students from Catawba, Cleveland, and Lincoln counties are attending summer camp this week at Gardner-Webb College, but not for the activities generally associated with camp. These students are learning about business.

"We're trying to introduce the students to the business world and the free enterprise system," said Dan Moore, director of the Broyhill Academy. "We hope the students may then share this information with other students during the upcoming high school year."

According to Moore, the students not only participate in classroom activities but take field trips to area businesses where they have the opportunity to observe first-hand the free enterprise system in operation.

One stop this year will be at Cash Farms, a 600 acre peach orchard in Cowpens, S.C. There the students will observe the entire process of fruit production from harvesting the fruit to packaging it for shipment.

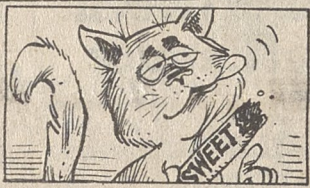

The students will also tour the Broyhill Furniture Plant in Rutherfordton, N.C. as well as the E.O. Corporation in Shelby,

N.C. "Earl Owensby is a perfect example of an entrepreneur," said Moore. "The students will see how movies are edited and how special effects are made for movies."

In addition to field trips the students have the opportunity to program computers as well as hearing from such guest speakers as Ann Gaither, senior vice president of Heafner Tire Co. in Lincolnton, N.C. and Robert Pence, special agent in charge of the FBI in North Carolina.

Area Students participating were Litz Harry of Grover, Kevin Alan Echols of Northwoods Drive, Kings Mountain, and Susie Biggers of Route 2 Kings Mountain.

Gardner-Webb is a liberal arts college affiliated with the Baptist State Convention of N.C., offering associate, bachelor, and master's degrees. The college is noted for its independence of federal funding.
