Tech Offers Course

Cleveland Technical College is offering a new two-year associate degree program in communications technology. The new curriculum beginning fall quarter will prepare students to acquire technical skills in multimedia production for the communications field in industry or education. Areas of study will include television and cablevision production, theatre, photography, film production, audio-visual production, and equipment maintenance. Students will be given on hands experience with Cleveland Tech's community access cable channel 22. Dr. Charles Reynolds will coordinate the Graduates of the communications technology program will be trained for entry-level employment in the communications fields as technicians in cable or broadcast TV, photography, film-making, graphic arts, and other related areas.

Registration for the communications technology program and other college curricula will be held Tuesday, September 6 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Campus Center Building. The per quarter full-time tuition and activity fee is $58 for in-state and $262 for out-of-state. For more information, call 484-4081.

Dr. Perkins In Gastonia

Robert S. Perkins, M.D., has joined the surgical practice of M.S. Moskowitz, M.D., and J.R. Miles, M.D., with offices on Pembroke Rd., Gastonia.

Dr. Perkins has just completed 21 years of active service with the U.S. Air Force, retiring with the rank of colonel. While serv-

White Appointed

David White, of Dallas, has recently been appointed to the District Eight Wildlife Advisory Committee by Wildlife Commissioner Dr. John Hamrick. Dr. Hamrick, of Shelby, represents Wildlife District Eight, which consists of Gaston, Cleveland, Lincoln, Catawba, Caldwell, Rutherford, Burke, McDowell, Yancey, Mitchell and Avery counties, on the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission.

The Advisory Committee consists of two representatives from each county who are knowledgeable about wildlife and its conservation. Its purpose is to improve communications between North Carolina sportsmen and other wildlife enthusiasts and the Wildlife Resources Commission.

White, a dedicated conservationist, is an active hunter and fisherman.

In appointing White to the Committee, Dr. Hamrick said there continues to be a need for good two-way communication betwee sportsmen in the District and the Wildlife Resources Commission. "There is information on programs and activities of the Agency that sportsmen need to be aware of, and, at the same time, those sportsmen need an avenue for input into the state's wildlife management programs.

"The Committee, through its local representatives, will provide a means for local citizens to become more involved in the management of our wildlife resources. From their input we expect to glean ideas and suggestions that will help better conserve and protect our wildlife," Dr. Hamrick said.

"I would like to urge anyone who has suggestions for improvements in our wildlife conservation and protection programs to contact Mr. White or one of the other county representatives on the Advisory Committee; or, they can contact me directly," he said.

ing at the medical center of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, he was chairman of the department of surgery and director of the surgical residency program. He also served as an associate clinical professor of surgery at Wright State University Medical School, Dayton.

Certified by the American Board of Surgery and the American Board of Thoracic Surgery, Dr. Perkins received his bachelor's degree from Brandeis University, Waltham, MA., and his medical degree from Tufts University School of Medicine, Boston. He served as internship and residency in surgery at Beth Israel Hospital, Boston. Dr. Perkins completed a specialized residency in thoracic/cardio/vascular surgery with the Sanger Clinic and at Charlotte Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Perkins is a native of Boston and is married to the former Lois Clay of Hendersonville. They are parents of a son,
