

Win $100 In Herald Football Contest

Get out your crystal ball. It's time again for the Herald's Pick the Winners football contest.

The Herald is beginning its 10-week football contest this week, and the person who is talented or lucky enough to predict the most winners of 20 weekend games can pocket $100.

That's right. $100!

The Herald has increased its prize this year to some good, round figures after giving away $75 in the past.

The Herald's payoff is the biggest of any newspaper in the Carolinas, and possibly the nation! If anybody gives a bigger prize for a football contest, we'd like to hear about it.

Here's what you do to win the dough: Inside of each week's Herald, you'll find a two-page football contest. On the pages will be 20 advertisements, each listing a football game that will be played on the upcoming Friday or Saturday. Pick which teams you think will win the 20 games, write their names on the contest application blank and return the blank to us by 5 p.m. Friday. If you pick more winners than anybody else, you win the money.

There are some rules that must be followed. They're printed on the football contest pages, but we'll clarify them as simply as we can here.

You are allowed only one entry. People sometimes try to confuse us by sending in 25 or 30 entries and putting different names on each entry. Sometimes, it may even work. But we're a pretty good judge of handwriting, and if we judge two or more entries to have the same handwriting, all will be disqualified. So, if you want a chance at the $100, be sure you're not a good judge of typewriters.

All entries must be postmarked or received by 5 p.m. They may be mailed to Football Contest, P.O. Box 75, Mountain, N.C. 28086, or brought to our office on C. Road, and placed in the football contest box which is located in the receptionist's area. We cannot guarantee that any contests left under the door or on desktops will be

In cases of ties, the following procedure will be used: Each contestant is asked to predict the total number of points scored in that game. In cases of ties, the contestant coming closest to picking the points scored in the tie-breaking games will be declared the winner. If a tie exists after the tie-breaking method is used, the $100 will be divided if the tie is between only two persons. If more than a two-way tie exists, a drawing will determine the winner.

The decision of the judge will be final. Good luck!

Kings Mountain Herald 25¢

VOL. 96 NUMBER 36

THURSDAY, September 1, 1983

KINGS MOUNTAIN, NORTH CAROLINA

On The Inside...

The Herald today begins a feature series football fans are sure to like. Each week during the football contest, the Herald will feature "Mountaineer Moments", a reprint of exciting games from Kings Mountain High's past. Today's game, a 26-0 KM romp over Shelby in 1955, is on pages 4, 5, and 6-A.

Kings Mountain's Mountaineers open their 1983 football season Friday night at Burns. Fearless predicts a KM victory. Gary Stewart predicts a Shelby-KM showdown for the Southwestern Conference championship. See page 1-B.

Georgia and UCLA will open their college football seasons Saturday in Athens, Ga. The two NCAA powers last met on the gridiron in the 1943 Rose Bowl game. Horace Walker of Kings Mountain was there. See page 2-B.

No Mayoral Candidates

Races Taking Shape

Persons who earlier announced that they would seek election to city commissioners' seats in the October 11 election have filed for office with Elections Board Chairman Luther Bennett.

But, to date, no one has expressed an interest in the mayor's seat, which has been held for the past 18 years by John Henry Moss.

Mayor John Henry Moss told the Herald today that he plans to announce for re-election next Wednesday, September 7 at 11 a.m. and that he will issue a formal statement at that time.

Irvin "Toogie" Allen, the first citizen to announce for office several months ago, filed last week to oppose incumbent Jim Childers for the district one seat. T.C. "Red" McKee filed last Thursday and Ronald Franks filed yesterday to oppose incumbent Corbet Nicholson for the district three seat, and Harry "Dutch" Wilson filed to oppose incumbent Norman King and the Rev. M.L. Campbell for the district four seat.

Filing continues through 12 noon, September 9. Voter registration continues through September 12.

Allen is a veteran of World War II, having served in the Eighth Air Force. He is a holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medals and Purple Heart. He flew 62 missions over the Continental Europe, including the first three daylight raids on Berlin.

He is a member of Saint Matthews Lutheran Church and is married to the former Shirley Houser. He is owner of Kings Mountain Trucking Co., Inc.

Franks is employed by First Federal Savings and Loan and is active in civic and community activities.

"If elected, I would like to see our city operated as much like a business as possible," he said. "This would help eliminate the petty politics involved in the day to day operations of the city."

"I would like to see a long-range plan implemented for repaving and repairing of our city streets," he added. "This would help keep our streets from getting into the shape they are now in."

"We need to push to revitalize our downtown shopping area," he continued. "Our merchants make us look good to individuals and businesses alike when considering a move to Kings Mountain."

"I am very proud to be a citizen of Kings Mountain and would like to be a part in the continuing growth and betterment of our city. I would appreciate everyone's vote and support."

Angel Allen Junior Miss

Angel Allen, senior at Kings Mountain High School, was named Cleveland County Junior Miss during the sixth annual program Saturday night at Malcolm Brown Auditorium in Shelby.

Three other KMHS students—Holly Dellinger, Joy McCoy and Laura Wright—were among the seven finalists.

First runner-up was Kathy Miller, a student at Burns High School, and second runner-up was Lydia Perrin, a Crest High student.

In addition to winning the crown, Miss Allen was also one of the preliminary award winners on Friday night. She won an award for her physical fitness routine.

Miss Allen will represent the county in the South Carolina Junior Miss program in December and the North Carolina Junior Miss program in January. In addition, she will be available for local appearances, which can be arranged by calling Jerry Emmert at 482-2395.

Miss Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Allen of Route 2, Kings Mountain. She works part-time as a lifeguard at Kings Mountain Country Club. She plans a career in either computer science, business or music education.

At KMHS, she is a pianist for the high school chorus, member of the Student Council, captain of the varsity cheerleading squad, statistician for the track team and a member of the FCA, Red Cross Club, Spanish Club, Beta Club, Monogram Club and Pep Club. She has served as a page for the N.C. Senate, was a delegate to the National Girl Scout Convention in Houston, Texas, attended N.C. Girls State, and attended the Mars Hill Choral Clinic and All-State Choral Clinic the past two years. She was selected the Most Outstanding Music Student.

She serves as children's choir

Former Miss North Carolina To Speak At Cancer Dinner

The Cleveland County Unit of the American Cancer Society is holding the Annual Awards Dinner on September 6th at the Cleveland Country Club at 7:00 p.m. Jeanne Swanner Robertson, the 1983 Honorary Crusade Chairman for the North Carolina Division of the American Cancer Society will be the guest of honor/guest speaker. Reservations may be made by calling 482-3166. Cost of the dinner will be $6.00 per person and is payable at the door.

Mrs. Robertson was Miss North Carolina in 1964 and competed in the Miss America Pageant where she was named Miss Congeniality. Originally from Graham, North Carolina, she now resides in Burlington and is remembered through the state as the 6'2" tall Miss North Carolina with a sense of humor. Now a professional speaker, Mrs. Robertson averages fifteen speaking engagements per month. She is a member of the National Speakers Association and in 1981 received its highest award, the CPAE, for excellence in speaking. President Ronald Reagan was one of the other three recipients for this award.

As Honorary Crusade Chairman, Mrs. Robertson will use as her theme "progress made in the fight against cancer in the past twenty years." Regarding cancer control, Mrs. Robertson states: "As a beauty queen, I am definitely a 'has been'. With the work of each local unit and its many volunteers, let's hope and pray that cancer will become a 'has been' in the very near future." "All Kings Mountain and Grover area volunteers are invited to make reservations and join us in this victory celebration," said Crusade Chairman William Hager.

Paul Hord Jr. Running For KM School Board

Paul Hord Jr. announced today that he will seek the two-year outside city seat on the Kings Mountain Board of Education in the November election.

Hord was appointed to fill the vacancy when Harold Lineberger moved out of the district.

Three other seats will be available, including the six-year inside seat held by Kyle Smith, the six-year outside seat held by Bill McDaniel and the four-year inside seat created by the resignation of Jerry Ledford. Doyle Campbell has announced for that seat. Smith and McDaniel are also seeking re-election.

Hord has been active in school activities for a number of years. In addition to serving on the board of education, he also is a member of the Kings Mountain District Schools Vocational Education Advisory Council. He served on the Blue Ribbon Commission which studied the system's facilities and organization and this past year he won the coveted Scheussler Award for outstanding service rendered to Kings Mountain Senior High School.

In announcing, Hord said, "I believe Kings Mountain has an excellent school system, but there is always room for improvement. I consider it a privilege to serve on the school board and would appreciate the opportunity to serve again. I have certainly taken my responsibilities seriously and will continue to do so.

"I've always been available for comments and suggestions from the public and teachers, and I pledge to continue that availability," he added. "I feel like a school board member should represent everyone in the school district."

Hord, his wife Joyce, and two of their three children are graduates of Kings Mountain schools. Their third child is cur-
