Accepts Limestone Job

Nancy Scoggins Resigns

Nancy Scoggins has resigned her position as physical education teacher and head girls basketball coach at Kings Mountain High School to accept a coaching position at Limestone College in Gaffney, S.C.

Miss Scoggins will become the women's athletic coordinator and head women's basketball and volleyball coach. She will also work in the student affairs and job placement program.

Scoggins served as head coach of the Mountaintettes for the past two seasons. She coached last year's team to its first Southwestern 3-A Conference title ever.

Scoggins starred on two Southwestern Conference championship teams at North Gaston

High School in Dallas, and later was an All-American basketball player at Pfeiffer College.

"Although I hadn't yet had the opportunity to work with her in basketball, I have heard from her peers around the conference and the faculty here at the high school, and they think very highly of her as an instructor and coach," first-year KMHS Principal Ronnie Wilson said. "We are all saddened by her decision but understand her reasons. She is going to further her career and the goals she's set in life."

Scoggins, who accepted the Limestone job Tuesday night and turned in her resignation at KMHS Wednesday, could not be reached for comment by the Herald's presstime.

Wilson said Scoggins will continue to teach at the high school until a replacement is found.

Scoggins will be part of a major building program at Limestone, which began its basketball program last year and finished with a 16-9 record. For that fine record, the Lady Saints won the Palmetto Cup, which is given each year by the Spartanburg Herald to the college or university with the best overall record.

"They have everybody coming back in basketball and volleyball," Scoggins said. "I feel like we'll be strong. Their athletic program is on the move. They've built a lot of new facilities and the people are real supportive of the program. I'm real excited about getting started."

Scoggins' first action as coach will be in September 16 volleyball tournament at the College of Charleston.

Scoggins plans to spend a lot of time recruiting this area of North Carolina and says "I'll be coming back to Kings Mountain every time I can."

Scoggins had a 36-13 record in her two years at KMHS, going 15-8 her rookie year and 21-5 last year. The 21 wins last year represented a school record for girls basketball.

"I hate leaving here," she said. "This is the hardest decision I've ever had to make. All of my girls were great. I want to thank everybody that helped me out."

Tourney Scheduled

The Labor Day Classic Softball Tournament will be played Saturday, Sunday and Monday at Deal Street Park.

Entry fee is $70 per team plus the team's own softballs. No T-4000 balls will be accepted.

Trophies will be given to the top three teams, 12 all-tournament players, three golden glove winners, leading hitter, homerun leader and most valuable player.

For more information, call Mickey Moss at 739-4985 or Keith Ramsey at 739-2947 or meet in front of the community center Thursday at 5:30 p.m.

NEWTON REUNION

The annual Newton reunion will be held at Newton Park near Casar Sunday. Descendents of the late Captain Benjamin Newton and their friends are invited to attend and take a picnic lunch. Lunch will be served at 1:30 p.m., followed by music and entertainment.
