KINGS MOUNTAIN, NORTH CAROLINA

NEW CAR - Beth Webster of Kings Mountain proudly displays her classic 1966 Mustang which she recently won in a promotion by the Kollege Inn.

And The Winner Is Key #22

Sweet Sixteen birthdays are special occasions for all of us but Dec. 18th will be a red letter day for 15-year-old Beth Webster.

Not only will Beth celebrate her 16th birthday in style but on Dec. 19th she will receive her driver's license and get behind the wheel of her own car, a 1966 vintage candy apple red mustang.

How Beth won the Mustang is a story in itself and one that she delights in recounting her 10th grade classmates at Kings Mountain Senior High School.

Beth and her mom, Frankie Hamrick Webster, went Christmas shopping recently and Beth registered at Kollege Inn for a prize.

"I had no idea I would win anything but no purchase was

FRED WELLS...Bell-ringing Chairman

Haywood E. Lynch Dead

Funeral services for Haywood Eugene Lynch, 74, retired Kings Mountain businessman and owner, editor and publisher of The Kings Mountain Herald from 1933 to 1949, were conducted Saturday morning at 11 o'clock from Boyce Memorial ARP Church.

Rev. William Tyson, assisted by Rev. Eric Faust, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the rites and interment was in Mountain Rest Cemetery.

Mr. Lynch, of 507 E. Ridge Street, died Dec. 1 at 12:45 a.m. in Kings Mountain Hospital after declining health.

A native of Goldsboro, Mr. Lynch came to Kings Mountain in the depression years and used his newspaper from 1933-40 to encourage the citizens of Kings Mountain to build Kings Mountain as "The Best Town In The State." He used his media to educate the community to the need for a public library. Utilizing WPA workers and the state librarian and Miss Pansy Fetzer of Shelby, to set up the mechanics, the library was born and housed in a small room in the basement of City Hall. It now stands as a public library, paid operations by the citizens tax dollars, and housed in the lovely home donated from the J.S. Mauney family, the present Kings Mountain Mauney Memorial Library.

HAYWOOD E. LYNCH

Mr. Lynch sold The Kings Mountain Herald to the late

Martin Harmon in 1940 and The Herald was sold in 1973 to W. Garland Atkins, the present owner-publisher.

In subsequent years Mr. Lynch owned and operated a Western Auto Store in the city and Lynch Furniture Store and was an equal partner in the Betty Yarn Mill with D.C. Mauney and had an interest in various small businesses.

Mr. Lynch was educated at Duke University in Business Law and Journalism from 1926 to 1928. As a financier, he built and put the young working man in his own home as owner in a development now known as Stowe Acres in Kings Mountain.

Ministers To Ring
Bells For The Needy

Members of the Kings Mountain Ministerial Association will be ringing bells during the next three weeks in front of area shopping centers to solicit funds for the association's Helping Hand Fund.

Rev. Fred Wells, pastor of Midview Baptist Church and chairman of the bell-ringing project this Christmas season, is hoping to raise at least $3,000 to provide food for needy families in the area.

The proceeds will go into the Helping Hand Fund which provides emergency assistance to citizens of the Kings Mountain School District throughout the year. The fund is also supported by United Way and special contributions from churches, civic clubs and individuals.

In addition to providing food, the Helping Hand Fund also provides emergency fuel assistance to area citizens.

Area preachers will be stationed in front of Harris-Teeter, Winn-Dixie and TG&Y on Friday and Saturday, December 9 and 10; Friday and Saturday, December 16 and 17; and Thursday and Friday, December 22 and 23, from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

"We'd like to encourage the citizens of the Kings Mountain area to give to this worthy cause," Rev. Wells said. "To be hungry and have nothing to supply that need brings misery. I'm sure those needing food would appreciate all the help they can get and the Ministerial Association would like to thank the people in advance for their contributions."
