Book Club Meeting Held With Mrs. Trott

The Thursday Afternoon Book Club met last Thursday for a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Tom Trott on E. King Street.

The attractive Trott home was very inviting with the use of many candles, holly, red berries and poinsettias.

After a buffet was enjoyed by 17 members, a business session was led by the president, Mrs. Claude Hambricht at which time names of new books for the coming year were presented. It was announced that $54.00 had been contributed to the Ministerial Association Helping Hand by the members of the club.

Mrs. Trott presented the Christmas reading, "Flower of Christmas Eve, A Yuletide Legend", as the program and the members sang "Silent Night, Holy Night" as a Christmas benediction.

CARD OF THANKS

The Abe Martin family of the Dixon Community wishes to extend its gratitude to each individual and the many churches who so graciously gave their time and food in the loss of E.C. "Abe" Martin.

Cotillion Club Has Dinner-Dance

Cotillion Club members dined and danced in a holiday setting Friday night at Kings Mountain Country Club.

Laura and George Houser, Carl and Newby Finger, George H. and Barbara Mauney, Joe and Frankie Hedden and Marian and George Thomason were hosts.

The clubrooms were decorated in traditional red and green with an old-fashioned tree trimmed with red apples and red ribbon as the highlight of decoration. Tables were arranged with green and red cloths centered with red poinsettias and holly.

The Dudes of Dixie, a Charlotte combo, provided music for dancing.

Open Gate Club Meets

Fourteen members of the Open Gate Garden Club met Wednesday at Hank's Steak House for the December meeting.

Upon arrival, members were served a dessert plate with coffee.

Mrs. Raymond Talbert, who has been associated with Allen's Flower Shop for a number of years, led a workshop as the program for the meeting. She also displayed arrangements on the topic, "Sweet and Lovely". Members brought arrangements done in containers featuring magnolia leaves and holly which were judged as a highlight of the workshop program.

Mrs. M.C. Amos presented "Timely Tips" and Mrs. Jim Dickey presided over the business meeting.
