The Blue Ridge Safety Council was organized in 1936 and serves several hundred companies in a seven county area of western North Carolina including McDowell, Burke, Lincoln, Polk, Rutherford, Gaston and Cleveland. It is sponsored by the N.C. Industrial Commission and has as its objective to promote safety in industry, home and public places with special emphasis placed upon industrial safety. It is operated as an independent, non-commercial, non-political organization.

Membership or other information may be obtained from any of the Council's officers and directors.

Safety Group Meeting

First quarterly meeting of the Blue Ridge Safety Council will be held Thursday, Jan. 26th, at 6 p.m. at Club Carolina in Cherryville.

A Safety Talk Contest will feature the program for the evening and special guest will be Ned Vaughan-Lloyd, Safety Director of the N.C. Industrial Commission, Raleigh. Ron Baker, personnel manager of J.P. Stevens Stanley Plant, will present the speakers.

Reservations for dinner at $4.75 would be made with Lewis Campbell or Mrs. Sue Ogle, J.P. Stevens Plant, Boger City, P.O. Box 658, Lincolnton, N.C. 28092, telephone number, 735-2581, extension 53 or 28 no later than Jan. 24th.

The menu for dinner will include roast beef, turkey and dressing, gravy, brown rice, green beans, rolls, pie, tea and coffee.

Larry Wood of Kings Mountain, president of the Safety Council, will preside. Mayor Ralph Beam, Jr. of Cherryville will give the welcome and Jack Cook, Chaplain of Carolina Freight Corporation, will give the invocation.
