

Sagesport Now Open

Grand Opening of Sagesport, in the former Fulton's building on W. Mountain Street, is now underway.

Corky Fulton, formerly manager of the family-owned Fultons' Department Store, has renovated the downstairs area of the Fulton building, added shelves and other interior furnishings and stocked the store with a complete line of sports footwear, clothing and sports gear. The new line, which is new to Kings Mountain, also includes tennis stringing, racquets, all sports shoes, running supplies for men and women, ladies aerobic wear and swimwear and casual clothes for all ages four and up.

Sagesport of Kings Mountain is the second sports store to be opened by the Fulton family. A Lincoln firm by the same name opened in June 1982 under the managership of Corky's brother, Jim Fulton, and reported such success that when Ruth and Bill Fulton retired from the retail business here, their son, Corky decided to open a Kings Mountain Sagesport.

CORKY FULTON

The firms are named after the late Sage Fulton, father of Bill Fulton.

We have oriented our stock to what the individual team member buys, said Corky, and feature no heavy equipment. Sagesport is open six days a week from 9:30 to 5:30.

A Kings Mountain native, son of Bill and Ruth Fulton, Corky Fulton grew up in the sales business and started clerking at Fulton's when he was a high school student. A graduate of KMSH, received his degree in Business Administration in 1973 and then got into the family business managing Fulton's here until his parents retired recently and closed the retail firm. He is married to the former Barbara Hord of Kings Mountain and they are parents of two children, Sage, age six, and Charlotte, age two. Past president of the Kings Mountain Chamber of Commerce-Merchants Association, he has long been active in the Kings Mountain Jaycees and Rotary Club. He recently became the third generation of Fulton treasurers at Boyce Memorial ARP Church of which he is a member, following his father, W.S. Fulton, Jr. who served 25 years. Corky's grandfather, W. Sage Fulton, Sr. served 25 years before Bill took the job and before that Bills' uncle was treasurer. A member of Corky's family has served as treasurer of the ARP Church since 1910, which is probably a record.

"Many active, sports-minded citizens have had to go out of town to buy the clothing and supplies they need and we decide to make this much-needed service available in Kings Mountain," said Fulton.

Central School Students May

Join Club

Central School has begun a new program which allows all sixth grade students who carry A or B averages to join the Science Club.

The club meets every Wednesday during activity period. Club sponsors are Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Moffitt and Mrs. Weathers. The club has 35 members.

On occasion, business and community leaders are invited to speak to the club. So far this year, representatives from Duke Power and its Catawba Nuclear Plant have spoken to the class. Visitors from the junior high spoke at a meeting two weeks ago and showed their projects for the school's Science Fair.

The club has undertaken a number of projects. It is currently recycling newspapers and hopes to raise enough money to have a dumpster placed at the school. In January, club members made bird feeders to hang around the schoolgrounds. This week, the club made posters to promote Tornado Awareness Week at the school.

The club will have its Science Fair in May. Club members must make a project. Prizes will be awarded for first, second and third place.

Foote Mineral Company recently gave the Science Club $150 for field trips and trophies.

KMHS Preparing For School Year

Kings Mountain Senior High is getting ready for the 1984-1985 school years. Rising Junior and Seniors have been registering to vote for elections of Student Participation Organization (SPO) and Class Officers. Trying to get students to register has been difficult in the past. This year has been outstanding, 236 juniors and 254 sophomores have registered. Thanks students!

On Thursday, April 12, SPO elections were held. Students seeking election were required to do a skit, and campaign throughout the week. All nominees have maintained a 2.0 grade point average for three preceding grading periods is also a requirement. Candidates for SPO President are—Jill Brooks, Richie Gold, and Robin Warlick; Vice-President—Kevin Sabucco and Patrick Hamrick; Secretary-Treasurer—Rodrick Boyce and Patti McGinnis. The winners will be announced in next week's Kings Mountain Herald.

Liberarian, Sara Griffin wishes to announce to the students that a summer reading program will be held from June 19 thru August 3 for children ages four to eleven. If any student would like to volunteer an hour or two a week to help with the younger children, please go by the Media Center and sign up.

Last week the Faculty Talent Show sponsored by the Journalism Staff was held for the student body. Students who wished to attend paid fifty cents. This profit aided in raising money for our school newspaper. Publishing a newspaper involves a lot of money and time. The Journalism Staff has done an excellent job this year. Thanks to the faculty members who participated in the talent show. We not only have fine teachers, but talented ones as well!

Cancer Jail-A-Thon Scheduled April 26-27

American Cancer Society volunteers in the Kings Mountain area are preparing for the second annual Jail-A-Thon to be held April 26-27 at Mountain City Building Supply.

Lavon Strickland and Darrell Austin are co-chairpersons of the project, and are being assisted by Zeb Plonk. The goal is $15,000. Over $11,000 was raised in the first jail-a-thon last year.

The jail will be in operation both days from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m., Mrs. Strickland said. Area citizens can have a friend, spouse, boss, co-worker, or anyone else "arrested" by calling the jail's special number which will be announced in the Herald prior to the April 26-27 jail-a-thon. Area police officers will serve a warrant on the victims and haul them to the jail, where they will appear before Kings Mountain's meanest hanging judges, William Davis, C.A. Allison, Gary Stewart and Jay Patterson. Everyone will be found guilty and charged a fine. The fine will be paid by the victims getting on the telephone and securing pledges to the Cancer Society for amounts equal to or greater than the fine.

During all the fun, the judges and other Cancer Society volunteers will be handing out literature which identifies cancer's seven warning signals and offers tips on how to quit smoking.

A Closer Look at IRAs.

We've made more time so you can save more money.

You say you've been planning to invest in an Individual Retirement Account all year and now you're out of time?

Not at First Union. We've extended our business hours to give you more time at tax time. So you can still invest in an IRA—and deduct it—from your 1983 tax return.

Each of these offices will be open Saturday, April 14 from 9:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. and on Monday, April 16 until 7:30 p.m. And this year, you've got until midnight, April 16 to file your taxes.

So if it's high time you had an IRA, come on in to First Union. Because we know that time is money. And we've made more time to help you save more money.
