

Bloodmobile Coming Here

The Cleveland County Bloodmobile will visit Kings Mountain Thursday, November 15, and blood donors are sorely needed to fill goals for this month.

The visit is being sponsored by Kings Mountain High School and thus far only 35 donors have registered. The goal is 150 pints.

Hours of the visit are 9 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. at B.N. Barnes Auditorium.

Republicans Win Major Battles In State, Nation

Cashion County's First Woman Commissioner

Joyce Falls Cashion, 52, of Kings Mountain, became the first woman to be elected to the Board of Cleveland County Commissioners Tuesday as she won election, along with Democrats Gene LeGrand, also of Kings Mountain, and Jack Spangler of Shelby.

Unofficial election returns showed Spangler leading the ticket with 16,267 votes followed by Mrs. Cashion with 15,089 and LeGrand with 14,089. Charlie Harry of Grover led the Republican ballot with 10,859 followed by Ruth Wilson with 10,483 and Davis with 9,639.

Always predominantly Democratic Cleveland County went Republican, along with Gaston County and a major part of the country Tuesday, giving a landslide victory to Ronald Wilson Reagan, the 40th President of the United States, over Democrat Walter Mondale, and Reagan's strong showing pulled many other Republican candidates across the nation.

Republican Senator Jesse Helms won election to his third term in the U.S. Senate with 55 percent of the vote over N.C. Governor Jim Hunt and three-term U.S. Congressman Jim Martin of Charlotte, in his long-shot for Governor, will become the second Republican governor in this century in North Carolina, defeating Democrat Rufus Edmisten by 54 percent of the vote. Bob Jordan won elections Lieutenant Governor in a race with John Carrington, Republican.

Reagan's coattails reached from Murphy to Manteo in North Carolina and straight ticket voting by Democrats and Republicans assured new faces from area courthouses to the executive mansion and state house in Raleigh and in the nation's capital where Republicans picked up 14 House seats, two Senate seats, and at least two governorships, including North Carolina. President Reagan became the first President in U.S. history to win a back-to-back landslide and television newscasters were predicting as early as 8:45 p.m. and based on "exit surveys" as voters left the polls, Tuesday's election would be a stinging defeat for the Democrats.

In neighboring Gaston County veteran N.C. House incumbents Sam Beam, D.R. Mauney, both of Cherryville, and Joe Roberts of Gastonia lost to Republicans and on the Gaston County Board of Commissioners all four Republicans won their races with Democratic challengers. Gloria Musard, veteran Gaston County Register of Deeds, lost in her re-election bid to Alice Blackwell Browne. Gaston County Commissioners, like Cleveland County Commissioners, elected a woman to the board in the person of Mary Lou Craig, Republican.

Kings Mountain Senator J. Ollie Harris, who was unopposed, won reelection to his 25th Senatorial District Seat, along with incumbents Helen Marvin and Marshall Rauch and N.C. House incumbents Edith Lutz, Jack Hunt and Charles (Bebe) Owens, were re-elected.

Voters at the East Kings Mountain, West Kings Mountain, Grover and Bethware precincts, like voters all over the county and state, were greeted by chilly weather and long lines at the polls but the overnight low temperature of 41 degrees didn't keep them away from the polls early and all day, as a record number of voters turned out at Kings Mountain's polling places and all over the county. Local registrars were swamped with voters all day and at one time the lines almost reached the 7-11 Store across Phifer Road from the National Guard Armory. Voters were waiting in line at the Community Center at 6 a.m. Precinct official Mrs. Bob Maner said that East Kings Mountain was chosen by CBS News as part of its representative sample for early predictions of the election outcome. The East KM figures were combined with other figures across the state and nation to form CBS predictions. Mrs. Maner called CBS as soon as the polls closed with totals in the Presidential, senatorial, and gubernatorial races.

At Grover, where the automatic voting machines were not in use, precinct worker Jackie Rountree said the voting process had run smoothly. Most of the voters, she said, seemed to know who to vote for and had little questions. Workers stood by to assist voters in placing their paper ballots in the various boxes and numerous voting booths were in use in the Grover Rescue Squad where voters turned out in a steady stream all day.

Joyce Falls Cashion said one of the big Shelby boxes encountered some problems and that vote counting had to be done by hand finally and was not completed until almost 6 a.m. on Wednesday by tired election officials. She said that lines were long at all precincts in Cleveland County.

Republican incumbent Rep. Jim Broyhill, 57, of Lenoir, was declared an early winner in the 10th District. Congressman Broyhill won a 13th term against Democrat Ted Pooney, 55, a Granite Falls dairy farmer.

Grover To Condemn Land For Sewer Line

Grover Town Board Monday authorized Town Attorney, Andy Neisler, to proceed with condemnation procedures to obtain much-needed right-of-way for a sewer system.

"I move we take whatever procedures we need to get things going," said Commissioner

Ronald Queen in making the motion. It was quickly seconded by Commissioner Bill Camp and Jim Howell and Donald Rich also voted in favor of the motion. Grady Ross was absent due to illness.

Harris To Speak At Vet Day Program

State Senator J. Ollie Harris of Kings Mountain will make the Veteran's Day address at Sunday afternoon community-wide Veterans Day at Veteran's Park of Mountain Rest Cemetery at 2 p.m.

The service is sponsored by the city of Kings Mountain and veterans organizations, including the American Legion Post 155 and Auxiliary and Frank B. Glass Post 9811 VFW.

Mayor John Henry Moss will lay the memorial wreath after the address by Mr. Harris.

Senator Harris was re-elected Tuesday to another term in the North Carolina Senate.

"We invite the community to come out in large numbers to honor all our veterans on Sunday", said Post 155 Commander Frank Hamrick, a member of the committee on arrangements for the service.

Causby $100 Winner

Jacque Causby of 107 Center Street, Kings Mountain, correctly predicted 14 of 17 winners to take the $100 prize in last week's Herald football contest.

Miss Causby edged out three other contestants by coming closer to the tie-breaking score of 27 points in the Florida-Auburn game, won by the Gators 24-3.

Miss Causby, Cindy Benton of 206 North Sims Street, Kings Mountain, Samuel Howell of P.O. Box 265, Kings Mountain, and Sandra Gregory of Route 3, Bessemer City, all picked 14 winners. On the tie-breaker, Causby picked 37 points, Benton 38, Howell 51 and Gregory 68.

Only 17 of the 20 games listed in last week's advertisements were counted because three of the games were placed on the page in error and were not played last week.

Causby's only misses were York's win over Clover, Virginia's upset victory over West Virginia and Penn State's win over Boston College. Benton missed the West Virginia-Virginia game, the Syracuse victory over Pitt and Presbyterian's win over Gardner-Webb. Howell missed Maryland's victory over UNC, Florida's win over Auburn and Penn State's win over Boston College. Gregory missed R-S Central's win over Kings Mountain, Cherryville's victory over Fred T. Foard and Syracuse's win over Pitt.

Other winners last week were East Burke over Ashbrook, Bandys over Bessemer City, Shelby over East Gaston, Huss over South Caldwell, Georgia Tech over Duke, Clemson over Wake Forest, South Carolina over N.C. State and SMU over Texas A&M.

The last contest of the season is inside today's Herald. Pick the most winners and get us your entry by 4 p.m. Friday and you'll get the final $100 check. Only one entry per person will be accepted.

LT To Present Harvey

The curtain will go up Friday night at 8 p.m. on "Harvey", a three-act comedy by Mary Chase, by the cast of the Kings Mountain Little Theatre.

Joe Ann (Boots) McDaniel is directing the hilarious show which will be presented again on Saturday night at 8 p.m. and Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. in Park Grace Auditorium. "Harvey" will also be presented Nov. 16 and Nov. 17 at 8 p.m. each evening. Admission is $4 for adults and $2 for students and senior citizens. The show is funded by a grant from the N.C. Arts Society.

Jim Champion, who also played the lead role in 1977 when KMLT presented "Harvey", will again play Elwood P. Dowd, the eccentric professor who has a make-believe friend named "Harvey", a six foot white rabbit that only he can see. Myrtle Mae Simmons, Elwood's niece who despises the "Pooka", is again played by Cathy Moretz who was in the 1977 cast, and lead female role. Dr. Bob Baker, who portrays Judge Omar Gaffney, was also a member of the original cast and appears again in the same role.

Dr. Baker's wife, Mary Louise Baker, is a newcomer to the cast and portrays Veta Louise Simmons, mother of Myrtle Mae, who moves to the Dowd home to introduce her daughter to society. Mrs. Aubrey Mauney portrays Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet, Heather Bradshaw is Ruth Kelly, the nurse, John Grant is Dwayne Wilson, Chip Caldwell is Lyman Sanderson, M.D., Steve Marlowe is William R. Chumley, M.D. and Esther Muench is Betty Chambley. David Grant portrays E.J. Lofgren.

Setting for the play is the library of the Dowd mansion and reception room of Chumley's Rest Home, a sanitarium. Since Elwood's mother has died, his sister Veta Mae Simmons, and her daughter, Myrtle Mae, return home to live with Elwood. At an afternoon tea in which Myrtle Mae is introduced to society, Elwood brings his "Harvey" with him and literally breaks up the party. The fun continues when Vita tries to commit "Harvey" to the sanitarium.
