Support Your United Way

Dear Editor:

Now that the election is over we need to turn our attention to the United Way campaigns now in progress in Cleveland County.

Your United Way pledge will be used to provide Red Cross services in the areas of teaching Safety classes (First Aid, CPR, Lifeguarding, Swimming, etc.); providing the blood and blood products to patients in the hospitals; helping Cleveland County families with emergency needs caused by One Family Disasters such as house fires or neighbors in the Carolinas in larger disasters as Hurricane Diana or the Carolinas tornadoes; working on Emergency Preparedness for natural, nuclear or other disasters; serving as the direct contact between those in military service and their families with emergency messages concerning death, serious illness, birth of a child, financial and other problems and the many other Red Cross services provided here and throughout the world today.

American Red Cross and the other United Way agencies need your support. Please help us help.

Save Cards

Dear Editor:

For over a decade I have served on the Board of Trustees of a home for abused and neglected girls and boys located just outside Las Vegas. The children there have an unusual project each year recycling old Christmas cards from which they earn extra pocket money...a project I hope you can help them with, by alerting your readers to save the fronts of attractive religious cards to send to St. Jude's Ranch for Children, P.O. Box 985, Boulder City, Nevada 89005-0985.

If you need additional information about this home, just write its director, the Reverend Herbert A. Ward, Jr., SSC. I am sure Father Ward will be happy to send you whatever materials you might be interested in having. And I am equally certain he will be grateful to receive the used Christmas card fronts from your readers (and even a donation to help feed and clothe his youngsters if your readers are so inclined).

I appreciate your help in this appeal, and I know the children will love you for it.

Taste Fair Success

Central United Methodist Churchwomen were tired but happy Tuesday when the last diner was served in four special kitchens set up in the Educational area of the church during a highly successful Taste Fair which drew large crowds and gave local citizens a quite different setting in which to eat lunch and dinner.

"Our husbands may never let us do this again", said Chairman Lauralee Cunningham who said her telephone started ringing as early as 7 a.m. Tuesday morning. By 10:30 a.m. 40 different dishes to be served in the Deep South, Christmas In Williamsburg, Pennsylvania Dutch Country, and the colorful West were taken from the ovens and hostesses in colorful costumes were ready at 11:30 a.m. to greet visitors on a taste trip around the country in one stop.

It was fun to dine in America's most colorful sections. The Far West was one of the favorite spots and contained among other things, an heirloom family quilt of Grady and Susie Howard. Christmas in Colonial Williamsburg transformed the church dining room into a holiday setting complete with a decorated Christmas tree. In Pennsylvania Dutch Country the wooden tables were set with pretty china and with magnificent sweets and soups and Southern Belles in colonial costumes served mouthwatering dishes reminiscent of Deep South in charm and style. Some of the menfolk helped out as "fair barkers" to run errands, locate more chairs, etc. Larry Hamrick, Sr., one of the barkers, said it took years to persuade women of the Church to sponsor the fair, which requires work and time. "The Church Mouse Goes To The Fair" set the theme and chef's helpers all were: Lauralee Cunningham, Tence Rhea, Barbara DeVane, Larry Hamrick, Evelyn Hamrick, Susie Howard, Bud Rhea, Cliff Cunningham, Jake Dixon, Dot Dixon, Carl DeVane, Margaret Kirk, Daisy Heavner, Jack Steinwed, Nelle Parker, Mary Black, Willie Howell, Kathleen Walker, Lib Mayes, Audrey Dickey, Paula McDaniel, Nell Gault, Mary Ann Hendricks, Pat Plonk, Marian Carpenter, Ann Withers, Bobbie Harmon, Marilyn Hamrick, Peggy Vaughan, Dru White, Denise Falls, Judy Norwood, Matoka Campbell, Tina Russell, Margaret Dilling, Hilda Dixon, Maude McCarter, Ruth McDaniel, Gerry Werner, Helen Hendricks, Mary Ann Hendricks, Martha Goforth, Kittv Cobb, Ruy

Lib Stewart

Throneburg, Evelyn Powell, Lillian Wright, Nell Smith, Carolyn Dilling, Bernice Glass, Mae Tesseneer, Jane Falls, Lib Arthur, Maude Harper, Winnie Fulton, Orangel Jolly, Janet Falls, Mary Dilling, Florrie Hamrick, Marie Brinkley, Faye Bennett, Janet Edwards, Victoria Logan, Linda Dixon, Pam Goforth, Mary Lou Ware, Dot Jonas, Marjorie Alexander, Becky Huffstetler, Nancy Auman, Betty Potter, Sue Horton, Ruth Cloninger, Grace Davis, Ruby Birmingham, Louise Blalock, Dot Hayes, Kathleen Walker, Mildred Bell, Margaret White, Vernie Mae Allran, Margie Dellinger, Faye Goforth, Sarah Griffin and Anne Bryant.

Those of us who are used to eating hotdogs and hamburgers for lunch were delighted at a treat we missed today. "Tasting" all that delicious food made it difficult to enjoy a sandwich today.

News items for the A section should be submitted by 5 p.m. Tuesdays. However, news events that occur on Tuesday nights may be submitted no later than 10 a.m. on Wednesday.

Display and classified advertisements should be submitted by 5 p.m. Tuesdays. Classified and political advertisements must be paid in advance.

Inflation - Fighting IDEAS

How are many American towns and cities saving money these days? They're turning trash into vital energy and useful, recycled materials. It's all thanks to a technology known as resource recovery. In one year, systems developed by one company created about $3 billion worth of energy from solids, liquids and gaseous materials which previously were viewed as waste materials.

Responsible for these savings is a leader in energy technology worldwide, Combustion Engineering, Inc. Its resource recovery systems have saved us the equivalent of 86 million barrels of oil. Resource recovery systems can make solid waste still more valuable—steel, aluminum and other materials are often able to be salvaged by the system's special separation processes.

If your community starts saving on energy costs thanks to such resource recovery systems, you may soon be seeing the benefits in your own budget, experts say.

I would like to thank those of you who supported me in my recent effort to become a county commissioner. A special word of thanks is due to the thousands of registered democrats who voted for me. By more of you continuing the trend of changing your registration to the Republican party, we are finally establishing a good two party system in our country & state. As we gain more balance in our two political parties, we all win.

Also, I would appreciate your assistance in helping me remove any of my campaign posters you see along our roads.

Thanks Again,
CHARLIE HARRY
