NO DELIVERY - NO DEED
By RUBY M. ALEXANDER

Even if a deed is properly executed, it doesn't become effective until it's delivered to the buyer and accepted by him. Take the case of the 80 year old man who signed, sealed and acknowledged a deed to his nephew and placed it in an old tin box in his room. He died shortly thereafter and the deed was discovered. In a contest with other heirs over the property, the nephew lost because of the deed.

Until the deed is delivered, title remains with the seller and he may change his mind and destroy the deed with impunity. But once properly delivered and accepted, a deed passes title and cannot be revoked.

Your best protection in the area of deeds is your lawyer. He will see that it's properly drawn and executed and properly protects you as far as his legal eye can see. Advice - do - it - yourself tactics in this technical area could have horrendous results.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at Alexander Realty, 608 W. King Street (739-1616).
