

Screening Sessions Scheduled

A team of teachers, speech therapists, the school nurse, the school social worker, and the principal will conduct pre-school screening sessions for all children who will enter kindergarten this coming school year and their parents. To be eligible, the child must be five years old on or before October 15, 1985. Registration is currently taking place at each of the five elementary schools.

The screening sessions are being planned for fifteen students at one time. The first group will begin at 8:30 a.m., the second at 10:30 a.m., and the last at 1:30 p.m. Parents should contact the school in their district to secure application forms and make an appointment for the screening which is on a first-come, first-serve basis. If the parent does not know which school his child will attend, he should call the District School Office at 739-4589 for that information.

Screening sessions will be held as follows:

West School, April 29-30; North School, May 1-2; East School, May 6-7; Grover School, May 8-9; Bethware School, May 13-14.

Parents will need to bring the child's official birth certificate (not the hospital record), his up-to-date immunization record, and a copy of his/her physical examination by the family doctor or the health department.

History Day Contest Set At UNCC

CHARLOTTE—The University of North Carolina at Charlotte will host the state's 1985 "History Day" contest Saturday, April 27, from 9 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. in Cone University Center.

Dr. Robert Rieke, UNCC history professor and state coordinator for "History Day," said approximately 180 students in grades six through 12 are expected to enter the contest, which has as its theme this year

"Triumph and Tragedies in History."

Contestants will be the winners and first runners-up from the state's eight district contests held earlier this year. State winners and first runners-up will be eligible to attend the national history contest June 11-14 in Washington, D.C.

Students may enter projects in one of four categories: historical papers, projects, performances or media presentations. Topics for this year's entries include the Roanoke voyage, D-Day, the Battle of Kings Mountain, and the diary of Anne Frank.

Exhibits will be displayed and performances presented from 9 a.m. until noon.

Kiwanis Talent Show Set Thursday Night

The annual Kiwanis-Schools Talent Show for grades K-7 will be held Thursday at 7:30 in B.N. Barnes Auditorium.

Winners from the Elementary schools in the various divisions will compete for trophies. Each participant will receive a certificate from the sponsoring club.

Jonas Bridges will serve as master of ceremonies and special entertainment will be presented by local talent at intermission.

Tickets will be available at the door. Admission is one dollar for students and two dollars for adults.

All proceeds are earmarked for community projects sponsored by the civic club.

SOME REASONS FOR OWNING A CONDOMINIUM

- A condominium is a safe investment and it will gain in value.
- Why pay rent when your monthly payments can go towards owning your own condominium and take the tax advantage of the interest you pay?
- Small monthly property owner association fee insures owner of no yard, shrubbery or grounds maintenance.
- Condominium living is the housing of the present and future.
