

Joseph Smith Joins L-R Public Relations Staff

HICKORY—Joseph L. Smith has been named associate director of public relations at Lenoir-Rhyne College.

The announcement was made today by Clarence Pugh, vice president for development.

Smith, a native of Kings Mountain, is a 1985 graduate of Lenoir-Rhyne, where he has been serving as interim public relations assistant since June. In his new position, he will have primary responsibility for sports information and will also be involved in a regular basis in

Activities Underway At G-W

BOILING SPRINGS-- Before classes begin August 27 at Gardner-Webb College, a host of activities will have already taken place at the college.

Registration for fall semester classes at G-W's main campus in Boiling Springs will begin Thursday, Aug. 22 with freshmen and transfer student registration from 9 a.m.-noon.

Registration for returning students and Greater Opportunities for Adult Learners or GOAL students, will be held Monday, Aug. 26. Returning students will register from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. in the Lutz-Yelton Convocation Center and GOAL students will register at 6 p.m. in Dover Chapel.

Two weeks of orientation are planned this year. The first began Aug. 11 for visually and hearing impaired students. The second week of orientation will be held for freshmen and transfer students Aug. 19-26.

The orientation week planned for the handicapped students will include general orientation to campus facilities and special services offered by the college. Assertiveness training and job placement will be topics discussed by guest speakers.

Biggest Brother Tim Emery of Richmond, Va. and Biggest Sister Sherry Lieurance of Rutherfordton, N.C. along with 44 other Big Brothers and Sisters will welcome incoming students to the campus with a week-long orientation. Activities include registration, freshmen testing, a skating party, movie, group meetings and a talent show.

Formal fall convocation will be held Aug. 29 in the Lutz-Yelton Convocation Center with Sarah Ann Hobbs of Raleigh, N.C. to be the guest speaker.

Miss Hobbs will receive the honorary doctor of divinity degree from G-W as part of the services. She is the administrative director for the division of missions for the North Carolina Baptist State Convention.

Eight new faculty members will begin work at G-W this fall. These are: Dr. Kenneth F. England, chairman of the education department; Dr. Ted R. Monroe, assistant professor of mathematics; Jeffery Elwell, assistant professor of speech and drama; and Jerry K. Slice, assistant professor of economics.

Also, Wanda Stutts, assistant professor of nursing; Dr. Viola Perez, professor of Spanish; Dr. Bonnie McLean Wright, assistant professor of psychology; and J. Russell Hardin, assistant professor of accounting.

History Demo Set At Schiele

Summertime on the Backcountry Farm? Living History demonstrations of seasonal activities around the 18th century Backcountry farm site, will be held at Schiele Museum, 1500 Garrison Blvd., Gastonia, N.C. 28053, on Sunday, August 25, from 2-5 p.m.

The public is invited.

meeting the other general public relations needs of the college.

In making the announcement, Pugh noted: "We're happy to have Joe in this position. He had an outstanding and diverse record as a student assistant in our public relations office for the past two years. His enthusiasm and record over the past ninety days under unusual office circumstances helped earn him the opportunity to serve his alma mater in this critical position within our development operations. I'm confident he'll continue to do a good job in helping us tell the Lenoir-Rhyne story to all our constituencies."

In addition to working as a student in the college's public relations office, Smith served an internship at The Hickory Daily Record in 1984.

As a student at Lenoir-Rhyne, he was a founding member of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity and served as chapter secretary. Active in the SGA, he was also elected to the All-College Bowl Teams in 1983, 1984, and 1985 and was named a "Most Valuable Player" for a non-finalist team in 1985.

Smith will assume his new responsibilities immediately.
