Property damages were minor in three automobile accidents which occurred in the city this week, according to the Kings Mountain Police Department.

Four Incidents

City police reported a quiet weekend in Kings Mountain as only four incidents were reported to police.

Marcellus Hopper, 425 N. Tracy St., reported that his bicycle, valued at $120, was stolen.

Colean Bennett, 1000 Brookwood Dr., reported theft of her billfold.

7-11, Phifer Road, reported that someone threw a bottle through a front window and damages amounted to $200.

Bridges Barber Shop, 409 Phenix St., reported that bottle-throwing vandals damaged the building.

Pam Jones Remains Critical

Pam Jones, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Jones, remains in critical condition at Duke Hospital in Durham with leukemia.

Miss Jones, a senior at Kings Mountain Senior High School, has fought the illness for several years. She was moved recently from Charlotte Memorial Hospital to Duke Hospital.

Her parents and family remain with her at the hospital.

A fund drive, lauded by Kings Mountain friends recently, continues and the special account has been set up at First Citizens Bank & Trust Co. where contributions were reported at $320 this week. The fund was started by concerned friends because of mounting hospital and doctor bills incurred by the family during Pam's illness.

Woman's Body Found Near KM

Sheriff Buddy McKinney would not rule out the possibility of foul play but said it is not suspected because of the location of the remains and because of Mrs. Newman appeared to have been fully clothed at the time of death. He said he believes she wandered into the woods and lost her way as she walked back toward Kings Mountain.

Because of the body's advanced state of decomposition, Dr. Hudson said a physical examination of the remains would not reveal a cause of death unless there should be evidence of a bullet or knife having pierced the bone.

"It's very sad to have to come to the close of a case in this fashion" said Sheriff McKinney, "but I know the family is relieved to know the certainty of her death. My sympathy goes out to the family."
