Blacksburg Mill Notes Management Changes

Mike Godfrey, Plant Manager of TNS Mills, Inc. Blacksburg Division, announced several management changes.

Keith Beveridge, graduate of N.C. State University, majoring in Textile Technology, joined the Blacksburg Operation in January as Plant Superintendent. Keith and his wife, Traci, reside in Kings Mountain.

During this time the Blacksburg operation increased from one overseer per shift to two overseers per shift. New overseers included Graylin Jay, graduate of Jacksonville State University, majoring in business administration and management. Graylin, his wife Joy Chastain, and their two children reside in Spartanburg. Graylin is responsible for the operation of the rotating shift. Mark Nodine, graduate of Spartanburg Technical School, joined the Blacksburg Operation as overseer. Mark, his wife Kathy Lee, and daughter Shawnda Lee reside in Gaffney. Mark is in charge of the 2nd shift operation. Dan Corder, graduate of Highpoint College was promoted to overseer. Dan and his wife, Lori, reside in Gaffney.

Godfrey also announced that Darrell Black was promoted to overseer. Darrell is attending Belmont Textile School. His wife, Frances, and three children reside in Kings Mountain.

Godfrey also added that "we are very proud of our modern spinning plant, and especially pleased to be able to recruit and upgrade our management team in order to be the Number One carded cotton sales yarn producer."
