AIDS fear still dominates

It's potentially the black plague of the 20th century. Little by little, AIDS is uprooting all other known diseases as the world's most deadly.

Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome primarily attacks gays and hemophiliacs, making its victims susceptible to rare infections and cancers that wouldn't normally affect a healthy person. It is believed, however, that physicians can now tell people how to reduce their chances of getting AIDS to almost nil. Also, we're told that the nation's blood supply is almost totally safe for the AIDS virus.
