DOOR DECORATING CONTEST-Grady Cochran and Jaimie Leeper show off the best decorated door in grades 3-5 competition at East School during Book Fair Week. The winning class was Mrs. T.W. Grayson's fourth grade.

Students Decorate Doors During Book Fair Week

East School students decorated their classroom doors to depict a favorite library book last week and ribbons went to the winners. First place in the competition was won by Mrs. Anne Mauney's kindergarten class on the theme, "Where The Wild Things Are," a book by Sendak. Other students participating in that division were students in first and second grades. Placing second were Miss Jolly's first grade class.

In grades 3-5, students in Mrs. T.W. Grayson's fourth grade won first place for its decorated classroom door for the favorite book, "You Can Make It," in which they used Japanese lanterns and handmade carnations to decorate.

Mrs. Kiser's third grade and Mrs. Ballard's fourth and fifth grade students won second place honors in that category.

The door decoration competition was a feature of the annual Book Fair at the school.

Churchwomen Have Organized

Kings Mountain Council of Churchwomen has organized in Kings Mountain and participating churches are First Presbyterian, Central United Methodist, Resurrection Lutheran, St. Matthews Lutheran and Boyce Memorial ARP Church.

The first annual dinner meeting of the group will be held May 1 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Matthews Lutheran Church. Tickets have been sold in advance for the dinner. There will be no ticket available at the door.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Carveth Mitchell, of Charlotte.

The new organization of church women will meet once a year at a host church for fellowship, for sharing a meal together and to get acquainted with women from other denominations.

Public Reception Monday At KMHS

A public reception Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Library of Kings Mountain Senior High School will honor Swedish visitors Katarina Nord and her son, Henrik, age 11.

The Nord's are houseguests of Dr. and Mrs. Laurence Meunch and family, coming especially to see Mrs. Nord's daughter, Asa, who is a Kings Mountain exchange student this year.

Reg Alexander To Speak Monday

Reg Alexander will be guest speaker at the annual Mother-Daughter-Member-Guest banquet of United Methodist Women Monday night at 7 p.m. at Central United Methodist Church.

The meal is $4 per person and reservations should be made with Paula McDaniel, 739-1774.
