

Saturday Wreck Is Fatal To Donna Gammons, 27

Donna Lynn Gammons, 27, of Shelby, was killed late Saturday in a one-car wreck on I-85 at the York Road exit. Mrs. Gammons was a passenger in a car operated by Rush Issac Mull, Jr., 27, of Shelby, which ran off the road and hit a guard rail on the right side and then came back across the intersection and hit a guard rail in the median.

Dr. Mayse To Request Pool Money

Kings Mountain Indoor Pool Foundation will make its second appeal to the city for $15,000 annually to operate a proposed indoor swimming pool at Kings Mountain Senior High School when the city board holds its May meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. in Council Chambers at City Hall.

The pool request will be made by Dr. Scott Mayse, president of the Foundation and chairman of the Kiwanis Club steering committee which started the $750,000 fund drive for a natatorium several months ago and has raised over $600,000. Dr. Mayse said that funds from the city will not be needed until the Fall of 1988 as construction of the pool complex is not anticipated to begin until early 1988.

The city board, at the April meetings, tabled a request by the Indoor Pool committee for financial assistance and said more information was required. Mayse said the committee needs a financial commitment this far in advance to allow the project to progress. He said the city's contribution is "critical" to the success of the community wide project and could have a bearing on decision of the KM Board of Education in accepting the natatorium and in designating funds to help support it.

by mid-1987. Another 300 will have been added by mid-1988.

In addition to compact audio discs, Philips and Du Pont Optical also will be adding capacity in Europe and the U.S. to supply CD-ROM, write-once, and erasable optical storage media for the information storage and retrieval markets.

The company expects to be generating annual sales of about $1 billion by 1990, when the worldwide markets for optical media are forecast to be more than $4 billion.

mission because farmers are more critical of county tax increases than city residents.

Stamey, 46, has said the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings federal budget-balancing law and 1988 poverty revaluation are the toughest issues facing Cleveland Technical College in Shelby, was seeking his third term on the board. Stamey had said that loss of federal monies for the county Department of Social Services could cause an increase of 15 to 18 cents in the county tax rate.

Hinnant said he is most appreciative of the support given him by the Kings Mountain area citizens and voters all over the county.

A total of 10,704 Cleveland County citizens went to the polls, with the voter turnout light in the four Kings Mountain boxes, but moderate in other sections of the county and heaviest at the Shelby Polling places.

Mull was hospitalized at Cleveland Memorial Hospital with injuries and two other passengers, with critical injuries, were transferred to Charlotte Memorial Hospital. They were listed as Kathy Bridges Allison, 29, and Doug Hamrick, both of Shelby.

Trooper J.F. Funderburk estimated damage to the Mull care at about $9,800. Warrants charging Mull with driving while impaired and felonious death by vehicle are pending until his release from the hospital.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gammons were conducted Tuesday afternoon from Sisk Butler Funeral Home, interment following in Westview Gardens.

She is survived by her husband, Steve Gammons; her parents, Clyde T. Head of Gastonia and Sue Conrad Head of Bessemer City; one son, Robert Gammons, of the home; two brothers, Bruce Head of Gastonia and Steve Head of Bessemer City, and one sister, Joy H. McClure of Alexis.
