HEALTH VIEWS

RAGAN HARPER

Allergens may be lurking in A/C

Cooling systems may secretly carry woes to allergy-prone people. Car air-conditioners, like those in the home, may harbor allergy-causing molds.

So, if your allergy worsens when your air-conditioner is running, it might be a good idea to have your cooling system checked for these moldy culprits.

Allergy relief is only a shelf away. Remember your family pharmacy and your personal pharmacist when you need help. Healthcare is our profession. Satisfaction, our guarantee! You can depend on us for your pharmacy products and services.

"As a nurse, I thought only surgery would relieve my back pain."

Then, a friend referred me to his chiropractor. An examination determined my pain might respond to chiropractic treatment. Now, I'm back at work... and almost pain-free... so there's no need for risky back surgery."

Surgery to relieve back pain should be considered only as a last resort. Many painful spinal conditions respond to gentle, natural chiropractic care... eliminating the pain and the need for surgery.
