

Scholarship Donors Honored

Boiling Springs, NC - Donors who have endowed scholarships at Gardner-Webb College were honored by the college at a recent luncheon. Also present and recognized at the luncheon were the students who are current recipients of the scholarships.

Speaking at the luncheon were Michael Rousseaux,

Student Government Association president; Dr. Richard Wilson, assistant professor of religion; and Dr. M. Christopher White, college president.

Rousseaux told the donors that Gardner-Webb is a place "where you can learn who you are and what you want to be. But there's one thing wrong with Gardner-Webb - it's not free. We're thankful for scholarship donors who make it possible for students to attend."

Speaking for the faculty, Wilson said that Gardner-Webb is a college of the mind, the heart and the hands. "Gardner-Webb is one family with many members; one institution with many disciplines." He expressed appreciation for the donors, saying, "It takes hands to build this family."

White told donors, "It is blessed to give and it is blessed to receive. We are pleased to be a part of something bigger than all of us."

Entertainment for the occasion was provided by admissions counselors Lynn Edwards and Risa Pless. Rev. Monroe M. Ashley, campus minister, was master of ceremonies.

Donors present were Henry Lee Weathers, Sr., Dick Legrand, Mary Lou Causby, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Little, Carl G. Martin, Mrs. Charlotte Swift, and Donnis Yelton, Shelby; Rev. and Mrs. Bob Abrams, Maxwell B. Hamrick, and Grace Harmon, Boiling Springs; Mrs. S.C. Harrill and Mrs. Iva Lee, Lattimore; Willie Hall and Rev. Robert Parsons, representing Race Path Baptist Church, Ellenboro; Mr. and Mrs. Z.W. Jolley, Mooresboro; Mrs. Dwight S. Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spangler, Lawndale; Mr. and Mrs. William P. Davis, Southern Pines; Mrs. Ann Hardy, Greensboro; and Mr. and Mrs. D.H. Witherspoon, Raleigh.

Alumni Plan Trip To Game

The Cleveland County Alumni Chapter of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is planning a chartered bus trip to the UNC-Illinois basketball game in Chapel Hill Dec. 20.

The $40 per person fee includes transportation, game ticket, refreshments, and dinner after the game.

The bus will leave the Shelby Law Enforcement Center at 11 a.m. Participants should bring a picnic lunch for a pregame tailgate party. The group will eat dinner before returning to Shelby.

Reservations will be accepted on a first-come basis with members of the UNC General Alumni Association receiving priority. Individual annual membership dues are $20 and Carolina couple dues are $25.

To make a reservation, send check - payable to UNC Alumni Chapter - to Joe Henderson, c/o First Union Bank, P.O. Box 1880, Shelby, NC 28150, as soon as possible.

For more information, call Henderson at 482-0381 (days), or Bob Kiger at 482-1492 (days) or 487-4519 (evenings).

Submissions Are Sought

Cleveland Technical College is accepting submissions for its literary magazine, "Foot(hill) Notes", to be published in late spring of 1987. The types of materials desired are as follows: poetry, short, short stories, short essays or other articles.

Poetry should be limited to approximately twenty lines; stories, essays, or other articles may be two to three pages of double spaced material.

The deadline for submissions is February 6, 1987. They should be mailed to: Cleveland Technical College, Creative Writing Workshop, 137 South Post Rd., Shelby, NC 28150.
