

Children Present Play At Long Creek

Twenty children between the ages of three and 10 presented the Christmas musical, "Psalty's Christmas Calamity" Sunday night at Long Creek Presbyterian Church.

The program was directed by Mrs. Betty Davenport.

In a series of eight scenes and 17 songs, the children produced an exciting story of how "it is not by power, nor by might, but by God that we get things done." Other features of the program were a talking hymn book, done by Barbara Bridges, and the manger scene portrayed by the Primary age group as the junior group sang "O Come All Ye Faithful" and a Christmas medley. "Christmas Is A Time To Love" was also sung by the choir and during the Sunday morning worship hour. Dr. Charles Davenport portrayed the role of "The Lord" and "Pastor". Mrs. Joan Smith assisted the direction and Mrs. Mary Lingerfeldt made the costumes. Derriell Smith assisted with sound and lights.

This was the second Psalty musicale done by the choir under Mrs. Davenport's direction. Last Fall the children performed "Kid's Praise".

Participating in the musical were David Dameron, Carrie Davenport, Amy Fredell, Cortney Fredell, Jason Randolph, Jamie Parrot, April Wilson, Jeff Randolph, Jessica Moore, Christina Berry, Lee Dameron, Bryan Davenport, Jason Davenport, Richie Franklin, Steven Fredell, Alex Lovelace, Beth Lovelace, James Robinson, Brian Smith and Tiffany Parrott.

Still is the voice we knew so well
Vanished the face we love
Flown his spirit, pure to dwell
With angels up above.

Ours is the sorrow, ours the pain
And ours the joy alone
To clasp him in our arms again
In Heaven, by Gods Throne.
