Country Music Stars To Perform At Central

Nashville Country Music entertainers will perform at Central School Sat., June 20th at 7 p.m. for Truckers Ranch, an organization to benefit handicapped, abused and homeless children in North Carolina.

Well known Country Music artist Cal Smith along with Ronnie and Reno and The Reno Brothers, plus songstress, Juanita Rose and comedian Bobby McLamb at Morganton will be featured.

Proceeds from the fund raising show will go toward construction of a working ranch. Truckers Ranch is a life-long dream of former trucker, Frank Hullett, a native of Newton. Hullett is founder of Truckers Ranch, and along with the governing Board of Directors, hopes to interest truckers in this very deserving organization. The idea is to provide a home-like atmosphere while learning and working together with these kids, housed at Truckers Ranch. It is hoped that everyone will support this crucial effort to help some kids who really need it...plus you'll get some very fine entertainment with Mr. Country Bumpkin himself, Cal Smith, along with the great band of Ronnie Reno and The Reno Brothers... plus Juanita Rose, who is the featured singer with the Hank Snow Show. This Nashville Music Revue is known to be one of the finest shows out of Music City, U.S.A.

In addition to ticket sales for the shows, each area will have a souvenir program book to remember the event.
