To Attend Girls State

Laura Allen and Melissa Rikard of Kings Mountain are among 350 rising high school seniors representing all 100 of the state's counties expected to attend the 48th annual Tar Heel Girls State next week—June 7-13 at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Heading the list of speakers will be Gov. James Martin at 11 a.m. on Friday, June 12, and Lt. Gov. Robert Jordan at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, June 11. Both will discuss the responsibilities of their offices.

Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, Girls State this year will have the theme, "Justice for All." Jo Jane Pitt of the UNCG Office of Continuing Education will serve as director of the week-long event. All sessions will be held in Aycock Auditorium.

The local girls are sponsored by Unit 155.

Students On ASU Dean's List

The following students have been named to the spring semester dean's list at Appalachian State University. To qualify for the dean's list a student must have at least a 3.0 grade point average on 4.0 scale and carry 12 hours.

From Cleveland County: Sally Ann Bivins, Judith Dianne Bridges, Ashley Ross Clary, Susan Elizabeth Greene, Manta Michele Jarrett, James Chappell Parton, Phillip Karl Philbeck, Jeffrey Carroll Reynolds, Patti Lynn Rollins, Anthony Eugene Wray and Teresa Lynette Tweed of Shelby; Elizabeth Annette Harry of Grover; Sandra Kay Hastings of Boiling Springs; Timothy Lovelace of Mooresboro; Jaune Marie Lynbrand and Leslie Elaine Sellers of Kings Mountain and Kimberly Davis of Lawndale.

From Gaston County: Kelly Suzanne Adkins, Michael Kevin Carpenter, Jonathan Tyler Jimison, Deanne Denise Langson, Tina Louise Lewis, Craig Franklin Lowry, Kathryn Elizabeth Main, Jo Ellen McCoy, Jamie Elaine Moser, Tracie Renee Norman, Peggy Anne Whitesides, Samuel Carl Whitesides and Lisa D. Moore of Gastonia; Alice Clemmer Browne, John David Ingle II, Daniel Mark Page and Charles Luther Sisk Jr. of Cherryville; Lawrence Leonard Capps and Nanette Le McMillan of Mount Holly; John Gregory Cloninger of Dallas; Tracy Lynn Cooper of Belmont; Lori Ann Holland, Stephanie Leann Hoyle and Judy Dianne Sellers of Bessemer City and Melissa Norris of Alexis.

Girls State is designed to provide insight into politics and political activities through simulation of local and state governments. Among their activities, the girls will carry out governmental functions, hold political conventions and rallies, introduce and approve legislation and formulate party platforms.

They also will elect a governor and other officials for Girls State, along with two senators who will attend Girls Nation later in the summer.

A ceremony at 7 p.m. on Sunday, June 7, will open the Girls State events. Speakers will include Dr. John Young, director of the UNCG Office for Continuing Education, along with the American Legion Auxiliary's past president Flora Jean Craig of Charlotte and its current president Arlene Barrett, of Kings Mountain.
