KM Nurse Delivers Grandchild

Kings Mountain Hospital nurse, Daisy Stewart, delivered her second grandchild in her first home delivery Wednesday morning at 2 a.m. on her daughter-in-law's living room couch in Gastonia.

Crystal Stewart and baby Sierra Nicole are both doing fine and have been discharged from Gaston Memorial Hospital. The baby, the couple's second child, weighed nine pounds, 5½ ounces.

Mrs. Stewart, who has been a nurse for 33 years, including obstetrics, said she had been on hand for many deliveries but never at home.

Mrs. Stewart said she dialed the emergency number when Crystal Stewart's labor pains began but a thunderstorm struck, lines were tied up and Crystal's condition wouldn't wait.

The whole family, including proud papa Rick Stewart, are thrilled with the new addition to the family.
