Abbey Given Grant

BELMONT, N.C. — The Carrie E. and Lena V. Glenn Foundation of Gastonia, North Carolina, has awarded a grant of $5,000 to Belmont Abbey College to introduce courses in Education which will lead to certification for teachers of the severely and profoundly handicapped. Presently, federal legislation mandates that all teachers in severe and profound settings have the proposed certification. Belmont Abbey College will be the only four year college in North Carolina to provide these state approved courses required for the certification. Descriptions of the three courses follows.

Course #1 - Introduction to Individuals with Severe/Profound Mental Retardation (3 credits)

The first course will present prevalence and etiology particular to the the severe/profound mental retardation, and an introduction to accompanying conditions such as cerebral palsy seizure disorders, physical anomalies, etc. Also discussed will be relevant legislation, continuum services of education, social, vocational, recreation and adaptive physical education, the importance of social role valorization (normalization), and awareness of community attitudes and resources, the necessity of and methods for working with families, and an awareness of normal development.

Course #2 - Curriculum and Method of Severe/Profound Mental Retardation.

This course provides instruction and experience with tests and assessments; data collection and utilization; instructional methods, i.e. prompting sequence/fading, behavior shaping, instructional adaptations, etc.; general curriculum; vocational education and placement; recreation; and behavior management.

Course #3 - Interdisciplinary Team Management of Individuals with Severe/Profound Mental Retardation.

Thorough examination of the following professions as they cooperate to contribute to the total development of the severely/profoundly mentally retarded individual: Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Speech and Language Therapy, Social Work, Adaptive Physical Education, Vocational Rehabilitation, Classroom Teacher, Public School Personnel.
Erin Knight, head of Special Education at Belmont Abbey College, states that there are many agencies within the surrounding communities that will benefit from the certification program.

About half as much hot water is used in the average shower as in the average bath.
