

Many Reasons Why Children Attend School

(Ed. Note—Second graders in Mrs. Sara Simpson's class at East School wrote essays on "Why I Come To School" during the recent celebration of American Education Week.)

WHY I COME TO SCHOOL

By Travis Watson
One reason I come to school is so I can learn to read. Knowing how to read helps you in many ways. You can read maps, newspapers, letters, book and signs. You need to know how to read so you can take the driver's license test. Another reason I come to school, so I can learn how to add and subtract. If you don't learn to add and subtract you could pay people too much for things. The main reason I come to school is because I just love to. One reason is for I can get a good job and a house and good clothes.
