Ollie Harris Files For Re-Election

Kings Mountain Senator J. Ollie Harris filed this week for re-election to his ninth term in the North Carolina legislature as races began to shape up for state and county offices.

Another Kings Mountain man, Wiley H. Allen, Jr., filed Monday for a seat on the Cleveland County Board of Commissioners and Shelbiana Phil Mayes, a leader in opposition to creation of a supplemental tax for Cleveland County schools and an original member of the County's Solid Waste Advisory Board, made it official he's running for a seat on the County Board.

Joyce Falls Cashion of Kings Mountain, who has served two terms as Vice Chairman of Commissioners, said she plans to file for re-election next week and Jack Spangler, Shelby businessman and also an incumbent, is expected to announce for re-election. The third member of the board whose term expires this year, Gene LeGrand, says he will not seek re-election.

In the Senate race, the three incumbent Democrats, Harris of Kings Mountain, Marshall Rauch of Gastonia, and Helen Rhyne Marvin of Gastonia have a total of 50 years service in the legislature representing Gaston-Cleveland-Lincoln and Rutherford Counties.

Rauch and Marvin are expected to file this week with the Gaston County Board of Elections. Senator Rauch has served 12 terms, Senator Marvin seven terms in the 25th Senatorial District.

Harris, 74, owns and operates Harris Funeral Home in Kings Mountain. He is a native of Anderson, S.C. and has been chairman of the Human Resources Committee for the past 12 years in the Senate, is a member of the legislative Service Commission, Mental Health Study Commission, Social Services Commission, Appropriations Commission, Finance Committee, Manufacturing and Labor Committee, Ways and Means Committee and Rules Committee.

"There are several important projects I am interested in as far as human resources and others that I feel it is important for my constituents and me to run again", Harris said. "With my seniority and the seniority of the other two senators, I think we do an outstanding job for the people of the district. You've got 50 years of service that we have finished among the three senators", he added.

Mrs. Edith Lutz, of Polkville, filed Monday for her seventh term in the N.C.

House which includes Cleveland, Rutherford and Polk counties. Dr. Jack Hunt, also an incumbent, Latent dentist, also filed Monday and Charles Owens was also expected to file this week for re-election to his second term. Mrs. Lutz, Polkville apple grower, said she wanted to continue to serve the 48th House district and is proud of the record that incumbents have given in the N.C. House.

Senator Helen Marvin says she definitely plans to seek re-election. She has been in the Senate since 1977 and is Chairman of the Committee on Justice and Public Safety and the Vice Chairman of the Committee on Pensions and Retirement. Senator Marvin said the Senate race would be a contest between Democrats and Republicans rather than an issue-oriented campaign.

KM United Fund Volunteers Celebrate Successful Year

A victory celebration by Kings Mountain United Fund volunteers Tuesday night was highlighted by awards to division leaders and presentation of the President's Award for high achievement to Bernard Harvey, chairman of the highly successful industrial campaign which put the largest ever campaign goal of $110,000 over the top.

United Fund President Ted Kostek and Campaign Chairman Bill Davis said the celebration dinner, held on the 12th day of Christmas, appropriately coincides with the spirit of giving evident in a campaign in which many volunteers worked hard to see a successful completion.

Both Davis and Kostek thanked division leaders and recognized campaign contributors at a dinner at Holiday Inn.

Mayor Kyle Smith also commended all volunteers in a brief address at the close of the awards ceremony.

Mrs. Grady Howard, chairman of the advance gifts division, received a plaque for attaining 100 percent contributions for the second consecutive year.

President Kostek presented a plaque to chairman Davis and Davis recognized Kostek for his leadership with an engraved plaque. It was additional gifts by area industry that put the campaign over the top and set a record in giving as United Way reached its largest ever goal in Kings Mountain, said Kostek, presenting the top individual award to Bernard Harvey.

Hambright Services Today

Funeral services for Dewitt Hambright, 93, retired farmer of the Dixon Community, were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. from Dixon Presbyterian Church of which he was the oldest member and Elder Emeritus.

Rev. Alan Sinclair, his pastor, was assisted by Rev. Graham Wood, former pastor, in officiating at the rites and interment was in Mountain Rest Cemetery.

Mr. Hambright died Monday night in the Kings Mountain Hospital where he had been a patient since Saturday. He had been in declining health for several years but until two years ago was in apparent good health and had never been hospitalized. He was one of the oldest descendants of Colonel Frederick Hambright, Revolutionary War hero at the Battle of Kings Mountain. A native of York County, S.C., he was the son of the late Robert David and Mary Anne Dickson Hambright. His wife was the late Sallie Alda Royster Hambright.

Surviving are his daughter and son-in-law, Ralph and Aleene Hambright Cline of the home and Charlotte; one granddaughter and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Mauney Appointed To KM School Board

Priscilla Mauney, who ran a close third in the recent school board election, was the unanimous choice of the KM Board of Education Tuesday to fill the two year unexpired term of Mayor Kyle Smith on the board.

The appointment was made in a brief meeting and without discussion. Board Chairman Bill McDaniel said each board member had studied applications earlier from seven candidates, including Mrs. Mauney, Susan Belt, who finished fifth in the November election, John L. Houze, a candidate four years ago; and Clyde T. Bennett, Katherine E. Hardy, Linda J. Newsome, and Dr. Martin Stallings.

FIRST BABY OF NEW YEAR—Lisa Marie Bolton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Bolton, of Kings Mountain, rests in the arms of her mother, Melissa, at Kings Mountain Hospital where she was born Jan. 3. She is the first baby of New Year 1988.

Lisa Marie Bolton KM's First Baby Of The Year

Lisa Marie Bolton, nine pounds five and one fourth ounce baby girl, is Kings Mountain's first citizen of new year 1988, arriving after the New Year on Sunday, Jan. 3, at 10:20 p.m. Dr. F.K. ... was attending physician at Kings Mountain Hospital.

The first baby, who was actually two weeks late, according to her proud parents, is the second child of Melissa and Jonathan Bolton of Oakhurst Trailer Park and granddaughter of Mrs. Daphne Stoll and the Late J.M. Stoll and Myrtle and Clayton Bolton, all of Kings Mountain. She has a 15-month-old brother, Rodger Scott Bolton.

Both mother and baby were doing fine at Kings Mountain hospital Monday and were expected to be discharged shortly by Dr. Richard Crowley, the family doctor.

Lisa Marie is brown haired and blue eyed and is her family's pride and joy. "We thought she'd arrive in time for Christmas but when she didn't the doctors told us not to worry but just plan to welcome her as the New Year's baby", said her mother.

Lisa Marie was worth waiting for, say the proud parents.
