SELLING YOUR HOUSE

RUBY ALEXANDER

Do you know what your house is worth in today's market? Setting the right asking price is an important part of selling the property: Set it too high, and you frighten away prospective buyers who are honestly seeking a home like yours; set it too low, and you don't get the right return on your investment. The first step is to check the recent sale prices of comparable houses in your area. Of course, few houses are identical, so allowances and adjustments must be made for the fourth bedroom or the extra bath or other amenities. Then there is the "current market" factor: current mortgage rates, the economy, the job market, the stock market, and more. Some margin not too much - can be added for bargaining leeway.

Of course, you have to know all the variables. That's why it's wise to rely on the help of an experienced real estate professional.

Put our knowhow to work for you. List with Alexander Realty, 739-1616.

Happy Birthday Sharon Blanton

Love, Eddie
