

Lecture Scheduled At Library

By ROSE TURNER

Special events scheduled at the Josephine E. Weir Auditorium at the Mauney Memorial Library include an exhibit by the North Carolina Print and Art Society, a lecture on the exhibit by Mrs. A.B. Snow, and visiting North Carolina author, Candace Flynt, as well as the regular pre-school story hour on Thursday mornings.

The exhibit by the North Carolina Print and Art Society is currently on display, and may be viewed during the hours the library is open. The show includes examples of relief printing, intaglio, lithography and serigraphy.

On Sunday, January 29, at 2 p.m., Mrs. Snow will give a lecture on the exhibit and discuss the four basic divisions of print making. Mrs. Snow says this is an outstanding show, with a variety of styles, and she is excited about having it in Kings Mountain.

On Tuesday, January 31, at 3 p.m., Candace Flynt will speak about her work and about what it means to be a writer. Following the program, she will hold an autographing session. Her most recent novel, Mother Love, is about an alcoholic mother and her three daughters. Her earlier works include Sins Of Omission and Chasing Dad. Her books may be borrowed or purchased at the library in advance.

Pre-school story hour is a regularly scheduled event for Thursday mornings. For the next few weeks the children will be talking about bears, reading bear stories, and doing beary things. The class is still open and there is room for additional children to register.

NORTH CAROLINA PRINTS ON DISPLAY - Jason Leigh, left, and Hart Wells view "Pigs," one of 30 prints of the N.C. Print & Drawing Society on display at Mauney Memorial Library. The prints can be seen during library hours through Jan. 31. On Sunday, Jan. 29, at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. A.B. Snow, local artist, will lecture on the exhibition in a program open to the public.

Bond Special Slated On Jones Intercable

"Say Yes To Bonds", a video on Jones Intercable Friday, Feb. 3 at 9:30 a.m. and Monday, Feb. 6 at 7:30 p.m., is being presented as a public service to offer Kings Mountain citizens information on the Feb. 7 $9.2 million bond referendum.

The Bond Committee chaired by Councilman Harold Phillips went before the television cameras last week and Jonas Bridges, Radio Station WKMT manager, served as moderator for a panel discussion featuring Kings Mountain Mayor Kyle Smith, City Manager George Wood, Councilman Al Moretz, Mrs. Elizabeth Lynch, and businessmen Joe Smith and Grady Howard.

Rob Bridges, executive of Jones

Intercable, said the public is encouraged to watch and participate in the 30-minute program on Cable Channel 3 and are invited to call in with questions to the group who will answer them during the program.

"Residents need to realize that the updating of utility systems must be done and by passing the bond referendum a saving of $3-$4 million in interest can be realized. With or without the bond passage, the improvements must be done," he said. "If we don't say yes at the polls on Feb. 7 the cost will be much more," he said.

Grover Board Meeting Set

Grover Town Board has called a special meeting for Thursday night at 7 p.m. in Town Hall.

Clerk Janet Patterson said councilmen have received a request to place a modular home in the city limits which calls for a review of the ordinances.
