Cancer Support Group Meets Here

"You don't know what a help it is to know that I'm not the only person going through this," remarked Jane to a new friend.

"I don't think I've ever felt quite as alone, after people began to find out that I had cancer. No one would talk to me much any more, people seemed uncomfortable around me," Jane's voice trailed off as she looked at her new friend and then across the room at the young couple talking with the middle aged man, all seeming to be very glad to meet these new friends.

Jane continued, "I think I understand what people were doing...they felt like they didn't know what to say, they didn't want to be hurtful, or talk about something that they thought would be painful for me, so their uneasiness made them avoid me."

Jane's new friend nodded vigorously. Jim, who was refilling his coffee cup chimed in with his agreement, "I know the feeling."

The group of people for whom cancer was a common factor in life had gathered seeking and giving mutual support, encouragement, and hope. The people could talk freely, everyone in some way had to face what one of the called, "the dragon." There was hope identified in knowing that sister and brother could "be there" for each other whether they be patient, family member, or one who was in remission.

The support group power can be for any cancer patient or family member in Kings Mountain. The group meets at 7 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in the Recreation Building of First Presbyterian Church in Kings Mountain (across from the Family Dollar Store on East King St.) For information or transportation call: Fred Dixon 739-1233; Carol Church 482-1566; or Eric Faust 739-8072 or 739-1495.

These high school football coaches know how to win on the playing field. And, they know what it takes for a victory on Tuesday, April 18. Here's their game plan. They're going to vote yes twice in favor of a $40 million bond package to improve our schools and our county government facilities.

Join them on the winning team! Your vote yes twice on April 18 means

- ✓ we can make desperately needed improvements now at our three school systems;
- ✓ we can relieve overcrowding and improve services now in essential county offices like EMS, the jail, the courts, Mental Health and Social Services; and
- ✓ NO TAX INCREASE. Bonds will be repaid with funds already earmarked for construction.

Vote Yes Twice on April 18 for Cleveland County
