

Students Cook Japanese Food

Fish and rice cooked Japanese style and served by kimono-clad Second graders in Sarah Adams and Brenda Foster's class is not uncommon this week since the young people have been studying about Japanese customs.

Parents of the students and other Second graders at North School joined in a special program in the school's Music Room Monday. The students made their own costumes of paper and colored them in blue and green, decorated the room with Japanese lanterns and paper flowers and decorated a cherry blossom tree which was the setting for a music program and dinner of fish, rice and tea.

Mrs. Adams said the students were completing a three-week's study of Japan.

Students participating on the program, which included songs and recitations, were Amy Marr, Tisa Duncan, Tabitha Hendrix, Travis Smarr, Banicca Watkins, Gary Tippins, Heather Adams, Patricia Ekhardt, Rocky Ingram, April Glover, Joy Sloan, Robby Childress and Joey Dettler.

NORTH SCHOOL SECOND GRADERS-The study of Japan in Mrs. Sarah Adam's Second Grade at North School was culminated this week by a program in which the students dressed in Japanese kimonos and served rice, fish and tea to their parents.
