Symphony Tickets For Senior Citizens

As a special activity to kick off May as Older Americans Month, the Kings Mountain Senior Center and City of Kings Mountain will make available 50 free Charlotte Symphony tickets to senior adults in the Kings Mountain area. These tickets are good for admission to the May 3 8 p.m. performance at B.N. Barnes Auditorium.

The tickets will be given away on a first come, first serve basis. Call Monty Thornburg or Sharon Eaker at the Kings Mountain Senior Center to reserve tickets.

Board To Meet

The Solid Waste Advisory Board will meet Wednesday, May 2, at 12:30 in Room 104-D of the Law Enforcement Center/Courthouse in Shelby.

Chairman Larry Hamrick Sr. said the agenda will include a discussion of a petition submitted by taxpayers for quality government; presentation by David M. Griffith & Associates about implementation of user fees and a tour of the manned/recycling collection center at the landfill.

WELLNESS KICKOFF-Representatives of local schools and industry, above, were given a tour of school facilities available to the public interested in physical fitness at a program kicking off Wellness Monday at the high school. The public is invited on May 17 from 6-9 to tour and use the walking track and other school facilities and to participate in health displays to be set up in the vacant area behind Neisler Natatorium. Front row, from left, Lavon Strickland, Pat Haskins, Marlene Reynolds, Sandy Eppers, and Jackie Lavender; second row, from left, Cindi Borders, Donna Haretos, Allison Woods, Jane Starnes and Rita Lawing; Back row, from left, David Hancock, Rev. Bob Collins and Jane King.

Wellness Kickoff Planned For May 17

What is billed as a "Wellness Kickoff" on May 17 from 6-9 p.m. at KMSHS track area will show the public what the local schools and city recreation department have to offer the public free for good physical fitness.

KMHS Principal Jackie Lavender, Parks & Recreation Director David Hancock, Schools Health Coordinator Cindy Borders and Director of Public Instruction Jane King accompanied representatives of local industry on a tour of the walking track, the new indoor Neisler Natatorium, the tennis courts, and an area behind the Natatorium where booths will be set up on May 17 for various industry to promote good health and where organizations like the American Red Cross and the Cleveland County Health Department will set up exhibits and blood pressure checks will be made.

"We want everyone to get on the bandwagon during National Health Fitness Week to encourage walking and to let everyone know that they can come to the lighted track and walk for good health, play horse-shoes, use the tennis courts, and use the basketball goals," said Rev. Bob Collins, who heads up the School Health Advisory Council. Allan Propst is Wellness chairman.

Participating in Monday morning's tour were Donna Haretos of Phillips DuPont, Pat Haskins of Spectrum, Lavon Strickland of Parkdale, Marlene Reynolds of Glen Raven, Sandy Eppers of Harper's Pharmacy, Allison Woods of ABB Combustion, Rita Lawing of CleveMont Mills, and Jane Starnes of Tultex. They were encouraged to sell the program to local industries and to help get the public out for the grand opening of the wellness program and see and use the new work out trails and fitness stations being put up.

The city recently installed security lights at the walking track so that the track can be used evenings. Four horseshoe pits are located behind the lighted tennis courts. Four backboards are also available to the public at the Junior High School.

"We feel that many positive things can come out of this wellness program," said Borders.

Hancock said that ongoing water aerobics are underway at Neisler Natatorium mornings from 11:30-12:30. Lap swimming is held mornings from 6-7:30 a.m. and evenings from 5-7 p.m. and public swimming is held on Saturdays from 1-5 p.m. and Sundays from 2-5 p.m. Hancock said the public should be made aware that the light switch at the lighted walking track is located on the visitors side towards the scoreboard.

Sit-up and stretch bars are located at the back of the tennis courts between KMSHS and KMSHS and the carpentry class is helping out in installing the volleyball court. A pay telephone will also be installed in the area of the Natatorium for the benefit of the public in emergencies.

Hancock said there is a community-wide interest in an exercise program and that additional fitness stations are planned and corporate sponsorship will be invited. He said the city will be pursuing grants for bike ways so that citizens can start riding bikes to school and work and that work on a walking track at Deal Street Park is underway.
