

SNOOPY POTATO-Irish potatoes apparently come in all shapes and sizes but a Snoopy potato is quite an oddity, especially for Jerry Bedsole, Radio WKMT's disc jockey, who grew the potato in his vegetable garden.

Tom Ellis Wins Wreck-Marred First Race At New Hampshire

A host of Winston Cup drivers journeyed north last week to join the Busch Grand national drivers in the first automobile race at the New Hampshire Speedway.

The race was a spectators' delight and a car owner's nightmare. With 17 caution flags only 25 of the original 46 cars were left at the end of the race. The yellow flags were mostly for multi car wrecks and not just the "debris on the track" flags seen on NASCAR super speedways.

Tom Ellis beat out Harry Gant, Chuck Bown, Morgan Shepherd and Rick Mast to take the checkered flag.

Many people feel that the New Hampshire facility will soon be added to NASCAR's Winston Cup schedule.

With the weekend off, Winston drivers and teams took their Grand National cars north and started taking notes on the best possible set up for future races. They got a book full of notes and a lot of bent sheet metal.

This weekend, Winston Cup drivers head back north to Sunday's race at Pocono International Speedway.

Rain forced cancellation of events at Carolina Speedway last Saturday. Racing resumes this week at 8 p.m. Gates open at 5 p.m.

East Lincoln Speedway plans to run the Shrine 100 this Friday night after being rained out last week.
