Teachers present program

In an effort to improve student achievement, the Space Bubble team at Kings Mountain Middle School uses "Positive Pupil Power."

Recently at the Middle School Conference held in Raleigh, KMMS teachers Alison Carswell and Recca Wright presented the program.

The strategy not only helps motivate the students to do better work, but also enhances good discipline. The students are rewarded positively for their academic and behavior efforts.

The purpose of the program is to give students the power to obtain positive rewards, feedback and praise. Different activities are held for students each month, however, the must earn the privilege to attend.

"In order for students to react positively to assignments, constructive criticism, or praise, teachers must remember to be as positive in the classroom as they expect the students to be," Wright and Carswell said.

Attic sale is Saturday

A big attic sale to benefit a landscaping project at Neisler Natatorium will be held Saturday from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m. at Kings Mountain Woman's Club.

Kings Mountain garden clubs are sponsoring the project which also invites donations and contributions from the public.

Mary Neisler, project chairman, said that persons wishing to donate sale items may deliver them to the clubhouse on East Mountain Street Friday morning from 8 until 11 a.m. and Friday evening from 5 until 7 p.m. Tax-deductible contributions may also be made to Landscaping Fund, in care of Mrs. Charles Neisler, Lee Street, Kings Mountain, 28086.
