SQUAD CHIEFS-Grover Rescue Squad Captain Jeff Cash, left, Grover Postmaster Fain Hambricht who was captain 10 years from 1960-70 and Buren Randle, who was captain in 1970-71, hold up a Grover tag and reminisce at an open house marking the squad's 31st anniversary.

Rescuers celebrate anniversary

GROVER-From humble beginnings in the old Town Hall 31 years ago, Grover Rescue Squad has emerged as Cleveland County's first paramedics and today occupy a handsome building with the finest equipment.

"We've come a long way," said Postmaster Fain Hambricht, the squad's first captain who served during the infancy years of the department in 1960 and was succeeded in 1970 by Buren Randle, then by Harold Watkins, Don Dingus, Tony Anthony, Jackie McMurray and Jeff Cash.

The former captains, the present squad, and old-timers came home Sunday for a birthday celebration in which they and other residents of the community cut a decorated birthday cake. Former Senator J. Ollie Harris, who was praised as one of the organizers of the squad, was a special guest.

Some of the original equipment, CB units used in the 1960's, were on display as well as newspaper clippings and pictures detailing the history of the volunteer rescue squad which was approved last year as Cleveland County's first team of paramedics.

"We had to bring our own CB radio when we came to the Town Hall for first meetings of the Rescue Squad," recalled Randle, who said the first ambulance was an old 1948 Cadillac. According to the minutes of the meetings, the squad was organized and a first aid course was held at Town Hall April 15, 1960 with 21 members. The new building was started in 1961 with $100 in the bank and a $8,000 note from the Bank of Blacksburg. Randle recalls he attended numerous dances, softball games, and suppers for which proceeds went to the building fund.

AN
DIVIDERS

TIMMS

One big advantage of using dividers in your home is that rooms do not always have to remain defined in one particular shape or size. Free-standing dividers are extremely versatile and they give you the freedom to restructure rooms any time you wish.

There are many ways to create dividers that not only separate areas, but also enhance a room - all with a great deal of flexibility in the bargain.

Dividers enable you to, for instance, carve a dining room from the living room, shield an entryway, or create a work area out of part of space devoted to other purposes. When needs change, dividers can be used elsewhere.

Ideas available today for dividers include many pieces of furniture such as bookcases or other kinds of free-standing wall units or cabinets with shelves that divide and display at the same time, and units or chests with drawers that provide storage as well as division.

Someone once said that when you divide, you add. That is, by dividing one area, you are adding another, and that can be an advantage.

To see, lots of furniture, for whatever your needs, stop in.
