Vocational Advisory Council. He chaired the Carolinas District Kiwanis Key Club committee which worked with key club organizations at high schools in both North and South Carolina and was district representative for Special Needs Association for the state.

A graduate of Kings Mountain High School, he attended Duke University and Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J. and earned his teaching certificate after completing extension courses with N. C. State University. Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. B.S. Peeler Sr., the Kings Mountain native worked in the family-owned and operated lumber business, Elmer Lumber Company, from 1944-74 and was the firm's secretary-treasurer. In 1974 he joined KM District Schools and retired in 1990. He was the Kings Mountain Jaycees' first "Young Man of the Year" and is also a past president of Kings Mountain Kiwanis Club and Kings Mountain Little Theater. He has been a featured baritone soloist for church, civic, and theater programs over the years and sings in the choir of Central United Methodist Church, of which he is an active member and former chairman of the official board.

A Kings Mountain native, King is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis King of Kings Mountain. A graduate of Kings Mountain High School and Gaston College, he has worked for Southern Bell's marketing department in Charlotte 23 years and served six years in the Air National Guard. He was among the first graduates of the Cleveland County leadership course for officials and has attended local, state and regional school board meetings and received a certificate of excellence from the Association for Boardsmanship. He is married to Linda Pearson King and they are parents of two sons, Billy Jr., 19, a student at East Carolina University, and Brian, 11, a 7th grader at Kings Mountain Middle School. The family is active in First Baptist Church. King acknowledged that he had been considering running for the office of mayor but said he wanted to see the completion of school programs of which he has been active and decided to seek a second term on the school board.

Filing deadline is Friday noon for the two inside-city seats up for grabs in the fall election. Mrs. Shearra Miller, of 403 W. Mountain St., filed last week.

Terms of King and member Doyle Campbell are expiring this year. Campbell has said he won't seek reelection.
