

AUDREY SHORE

Audrey Shore two years old

Audrey Elizabeth Shore celebrated her second birthday March 30 at a Carousel-theme birthday party at her home in Charlotte. The 20 guests received Carousel-decorated invitations and were served a pink, blue, and white cake with juice. The cake was centered with a musical ceramic Carousel.

Audrey is the daughter of Robin and Hoyt Shore Jr. of Charlotte. She is granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Shore Sr. of Charlotte and Mrs. Audrey Dickey of Kings Mountain and the late Jim Dickey.

seepage causing uplift and displacement of the spillway slab. This seepage was causing erosion of the spillway foundation soils. Repairs were done to prevent further deterioration of the spillway and foundation. Piezometers were installed to note changes in condition of underseepage, Pond said.

The dam elevation is 750 feet above sea level and the top of the spillway is 736 feet carrying 30 billion gallons of water in a drainage area of 43,380 acres.

"It would take a mega storm to give us serious problems and that's a chance of one in 20,000 years," said the mayor, who said Moss Lake passes storm tests.

More data for high-tech design spillways has come out since the lake was built in 1969 and was illustrated in the study.

Council, in a three-hour work session, also heard an overview of the Recreation Department from Director David Hancock, discussed opening of the Community Center evenings, and adjusting schedules and activities that people want and support.

"We want to identify where our recreation needs are," said Mayor pro tem Norma Bridges, chairman of the Parks & Recreation Commission.

Councilman Phil Hager suggested that one priority should be bringing Davidson Park and ball field "up to par" and look at fielding a youth team there. "We're not proud of anything the city has done at Davidson," said Hager, who said the city had been promising improvements there for years.

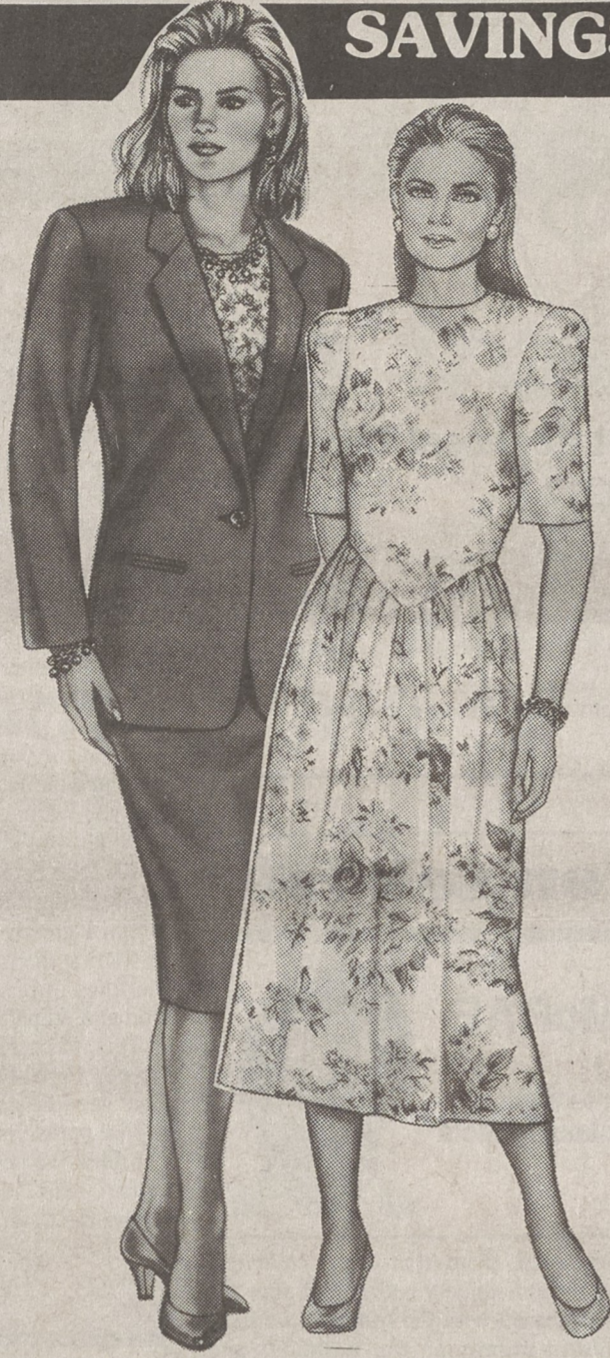

Councilman Jim Guyton, a former member of the P&Z Board, said the city should field more youth teams and look at entry fees that teams are paying to play ball. "We need to give all youth teams the same opportunities," said Guyton. "We've got some older youth in town who aren't supported by any program."
