

KM bands present spring concert

The Kings Mountain District Schools bands presented their annual spring concert Thursday night at B.N. Barnes Auditorium. Performing were the Kings Mountain Middle School seventh and eighth grade bands, and the ninth grade band and Blazer band from Kings Mountain High School.

Assistant band director Gil Doggett directed all the bands in the absence of band director Christopher Cole, who is recuperating from recent surgery. Cole and his wife, Sarah, his former assistant director, attended and presented band pins to the seniors.

The photos on this page show the bands in action. At top left is the saxophone section of the Blazer band, and at top right is the flute section of the ninth grade band.

The middle photos show Doggett directing the KMMS eighth grade band.

In the lower left photo, Doggett directs the KMMS seventh grade band in its first public performance. In lower right photo, KMHS senior Amy Putnam accepts her band pin from Mr. and Mrs. Cole.

